FREE POWER BALL

9 770967 164039 27

Hi, everyone!

Watch out, there's a power ball about! In fact there are TWO, Morty and Ferdie have one each and haven't stopped whizzing them about since they got them. I've got coloured spots before my eyes! Make sure you don't bounce yours inside the house - you never know where it might land, and paying for breakages is a BIG waste of pocket money! Have fun!

DONALD DUCK

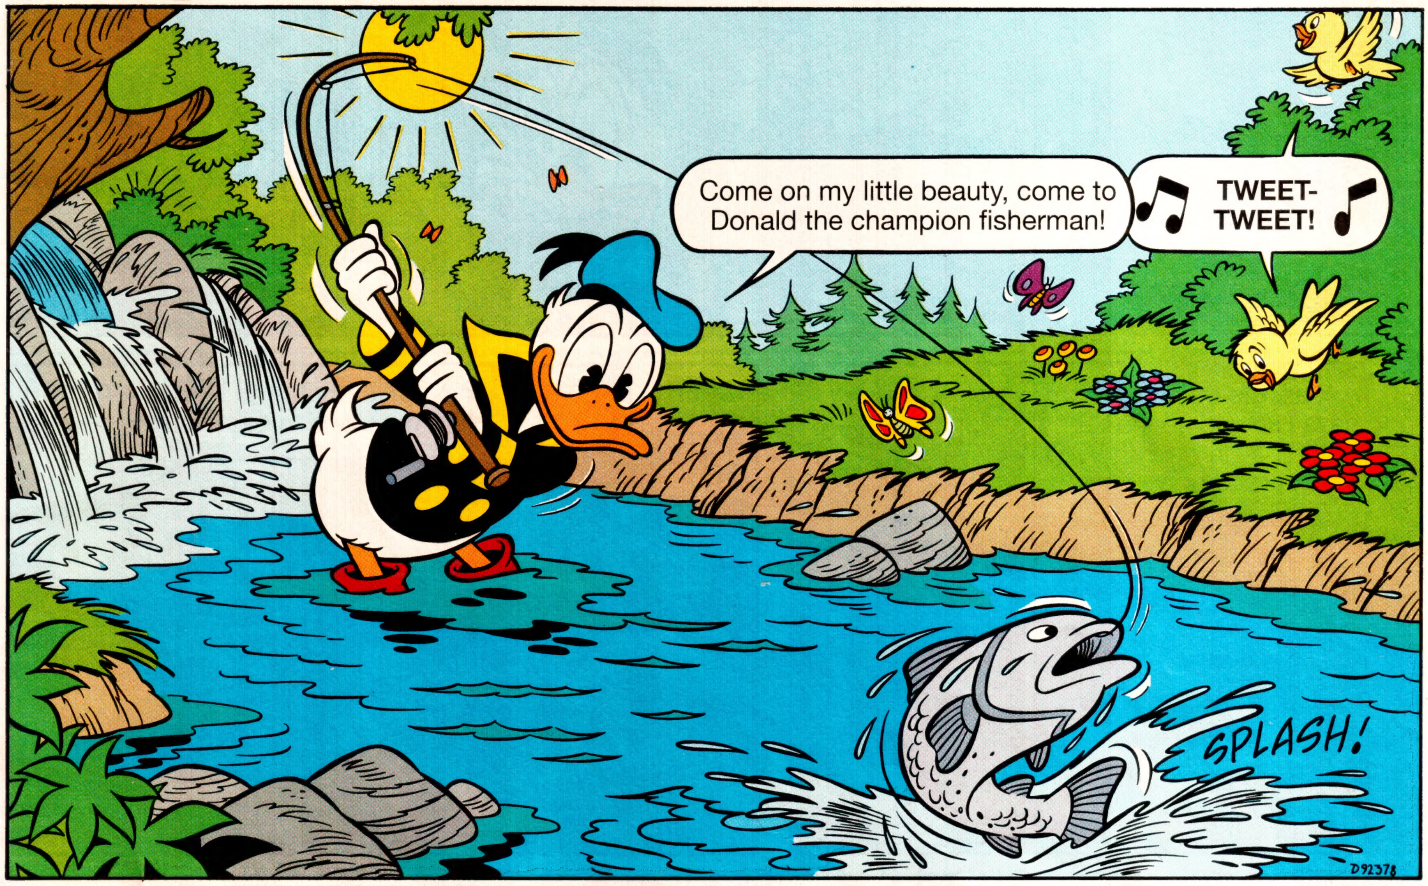
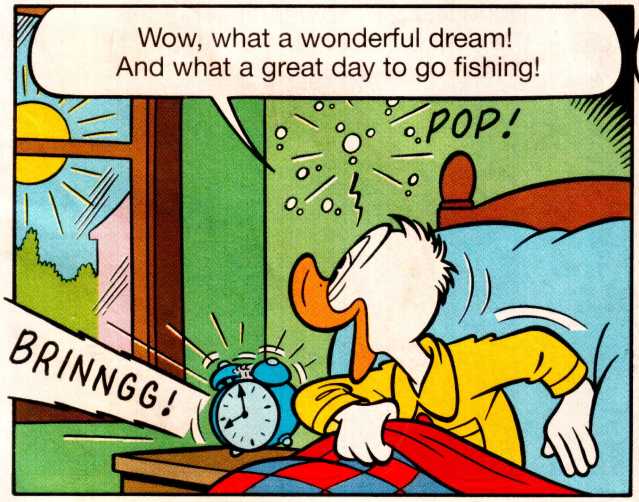
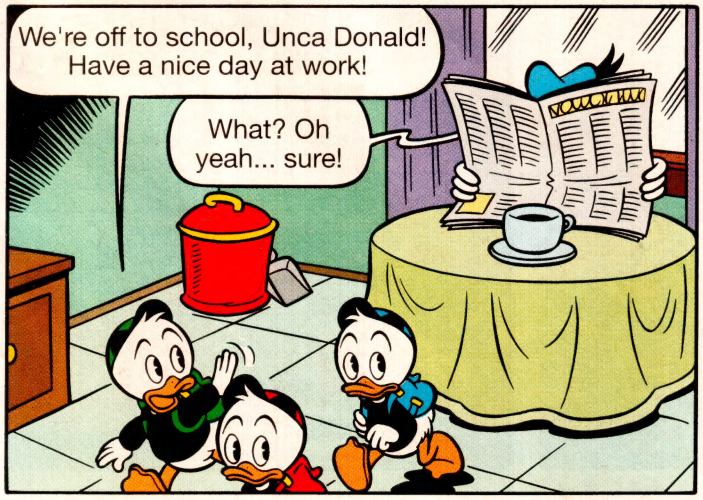
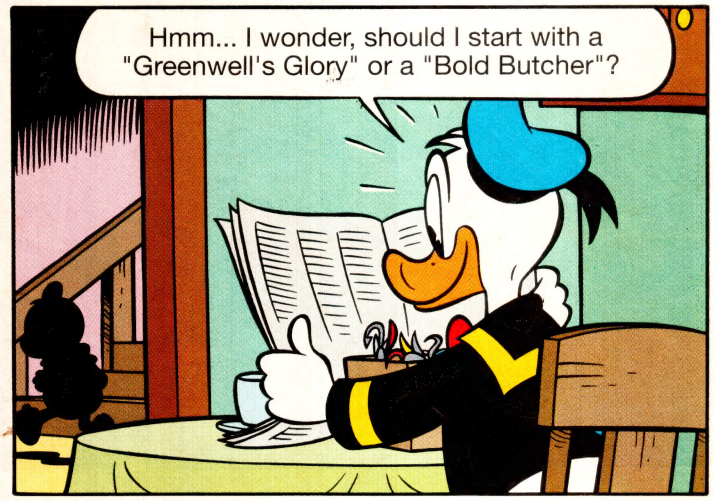
The Fishaholic

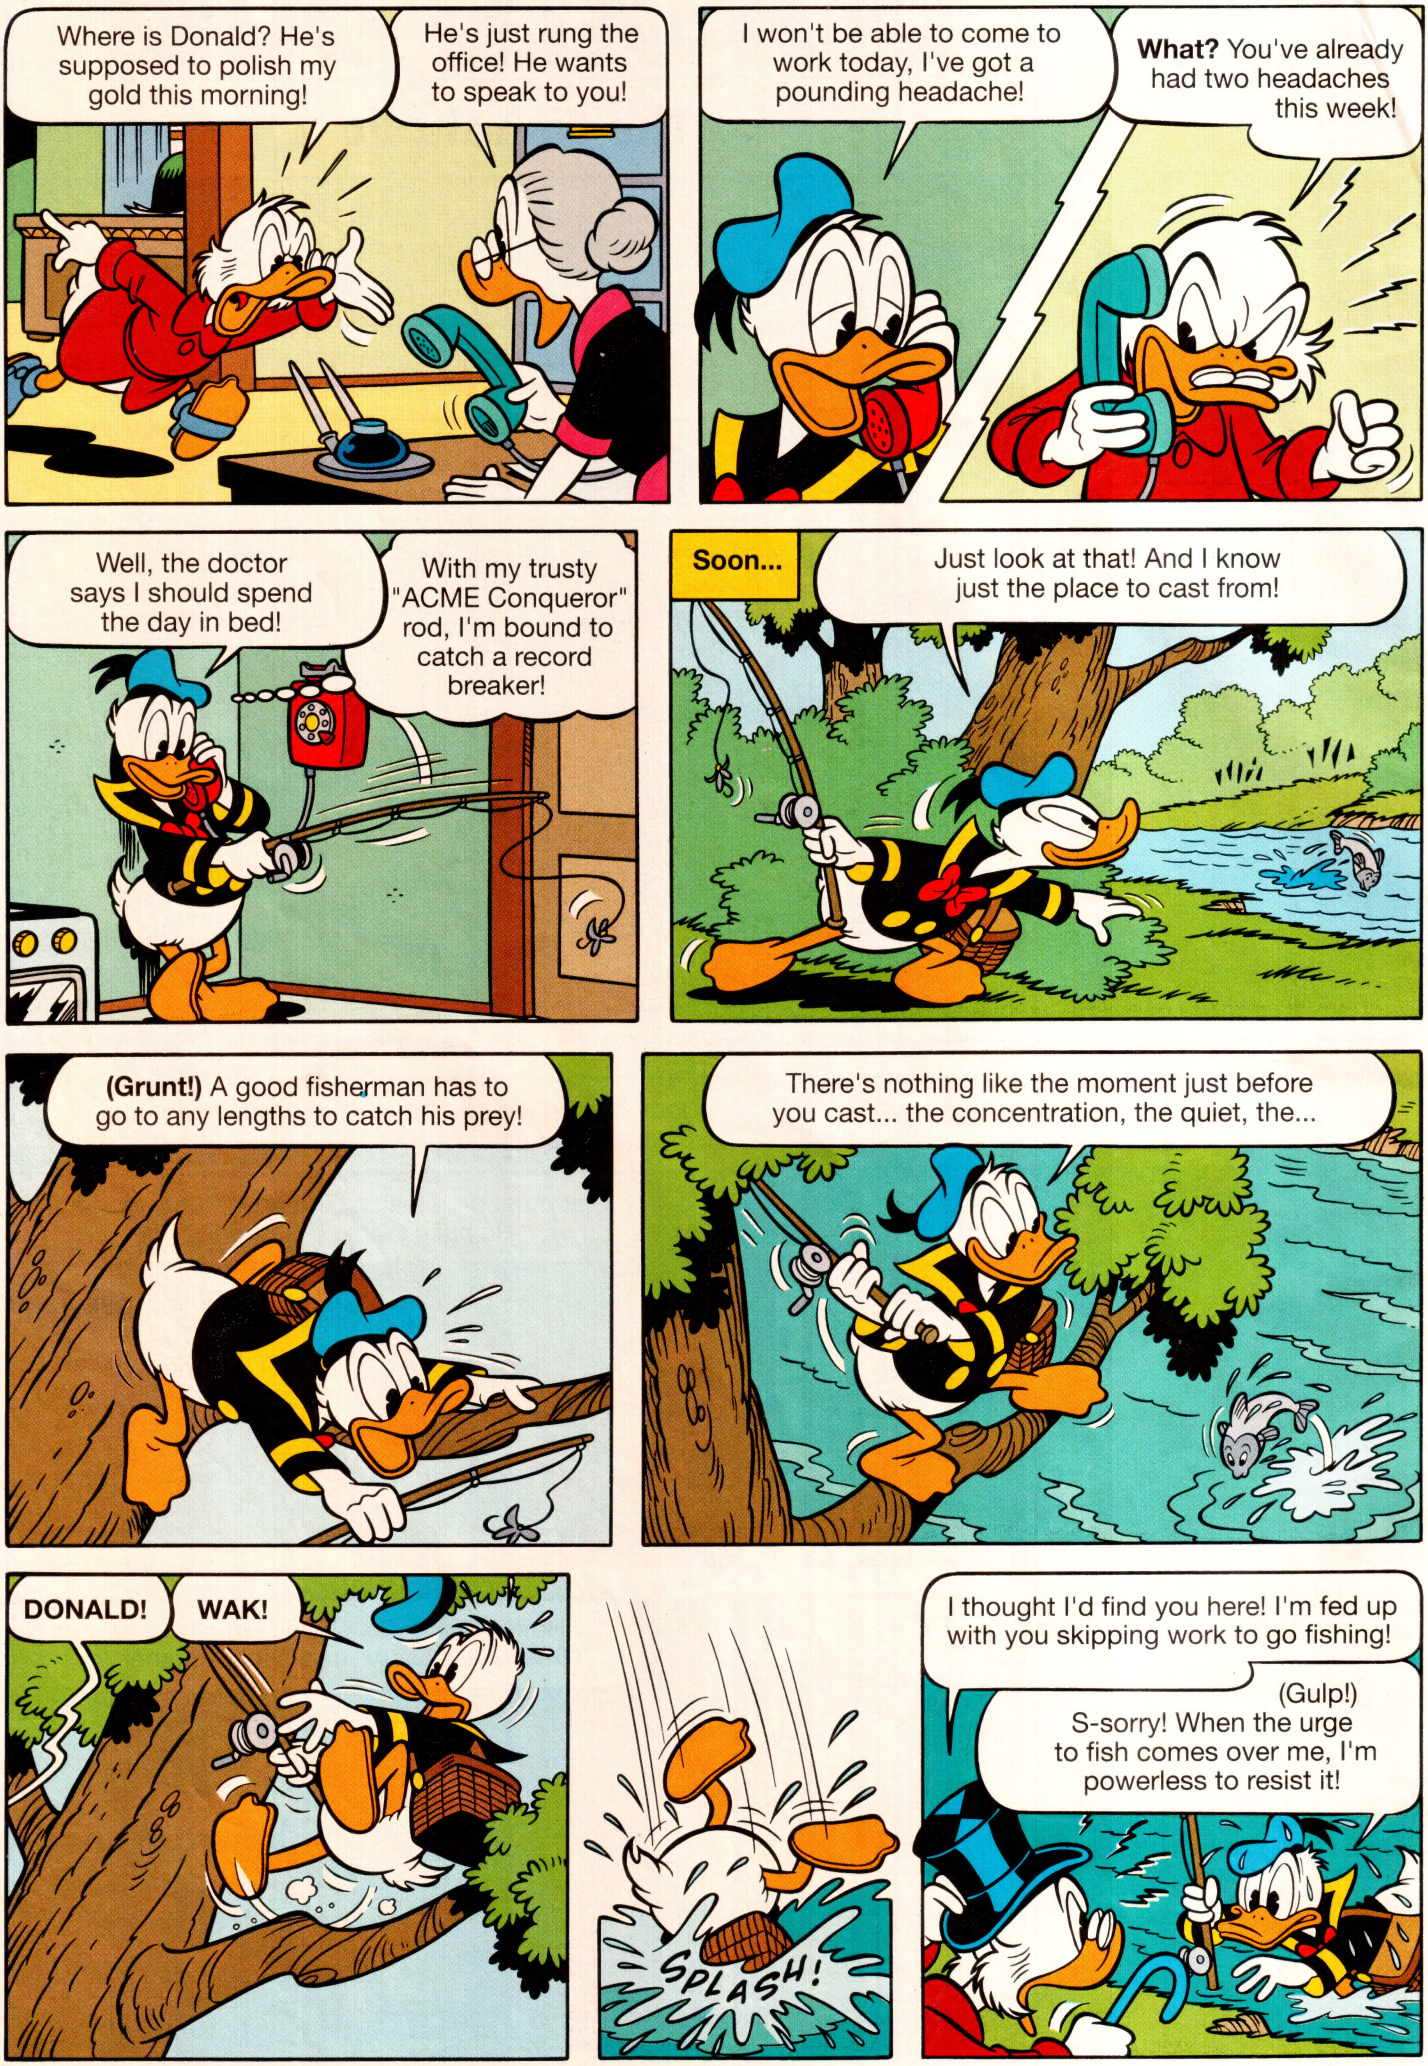




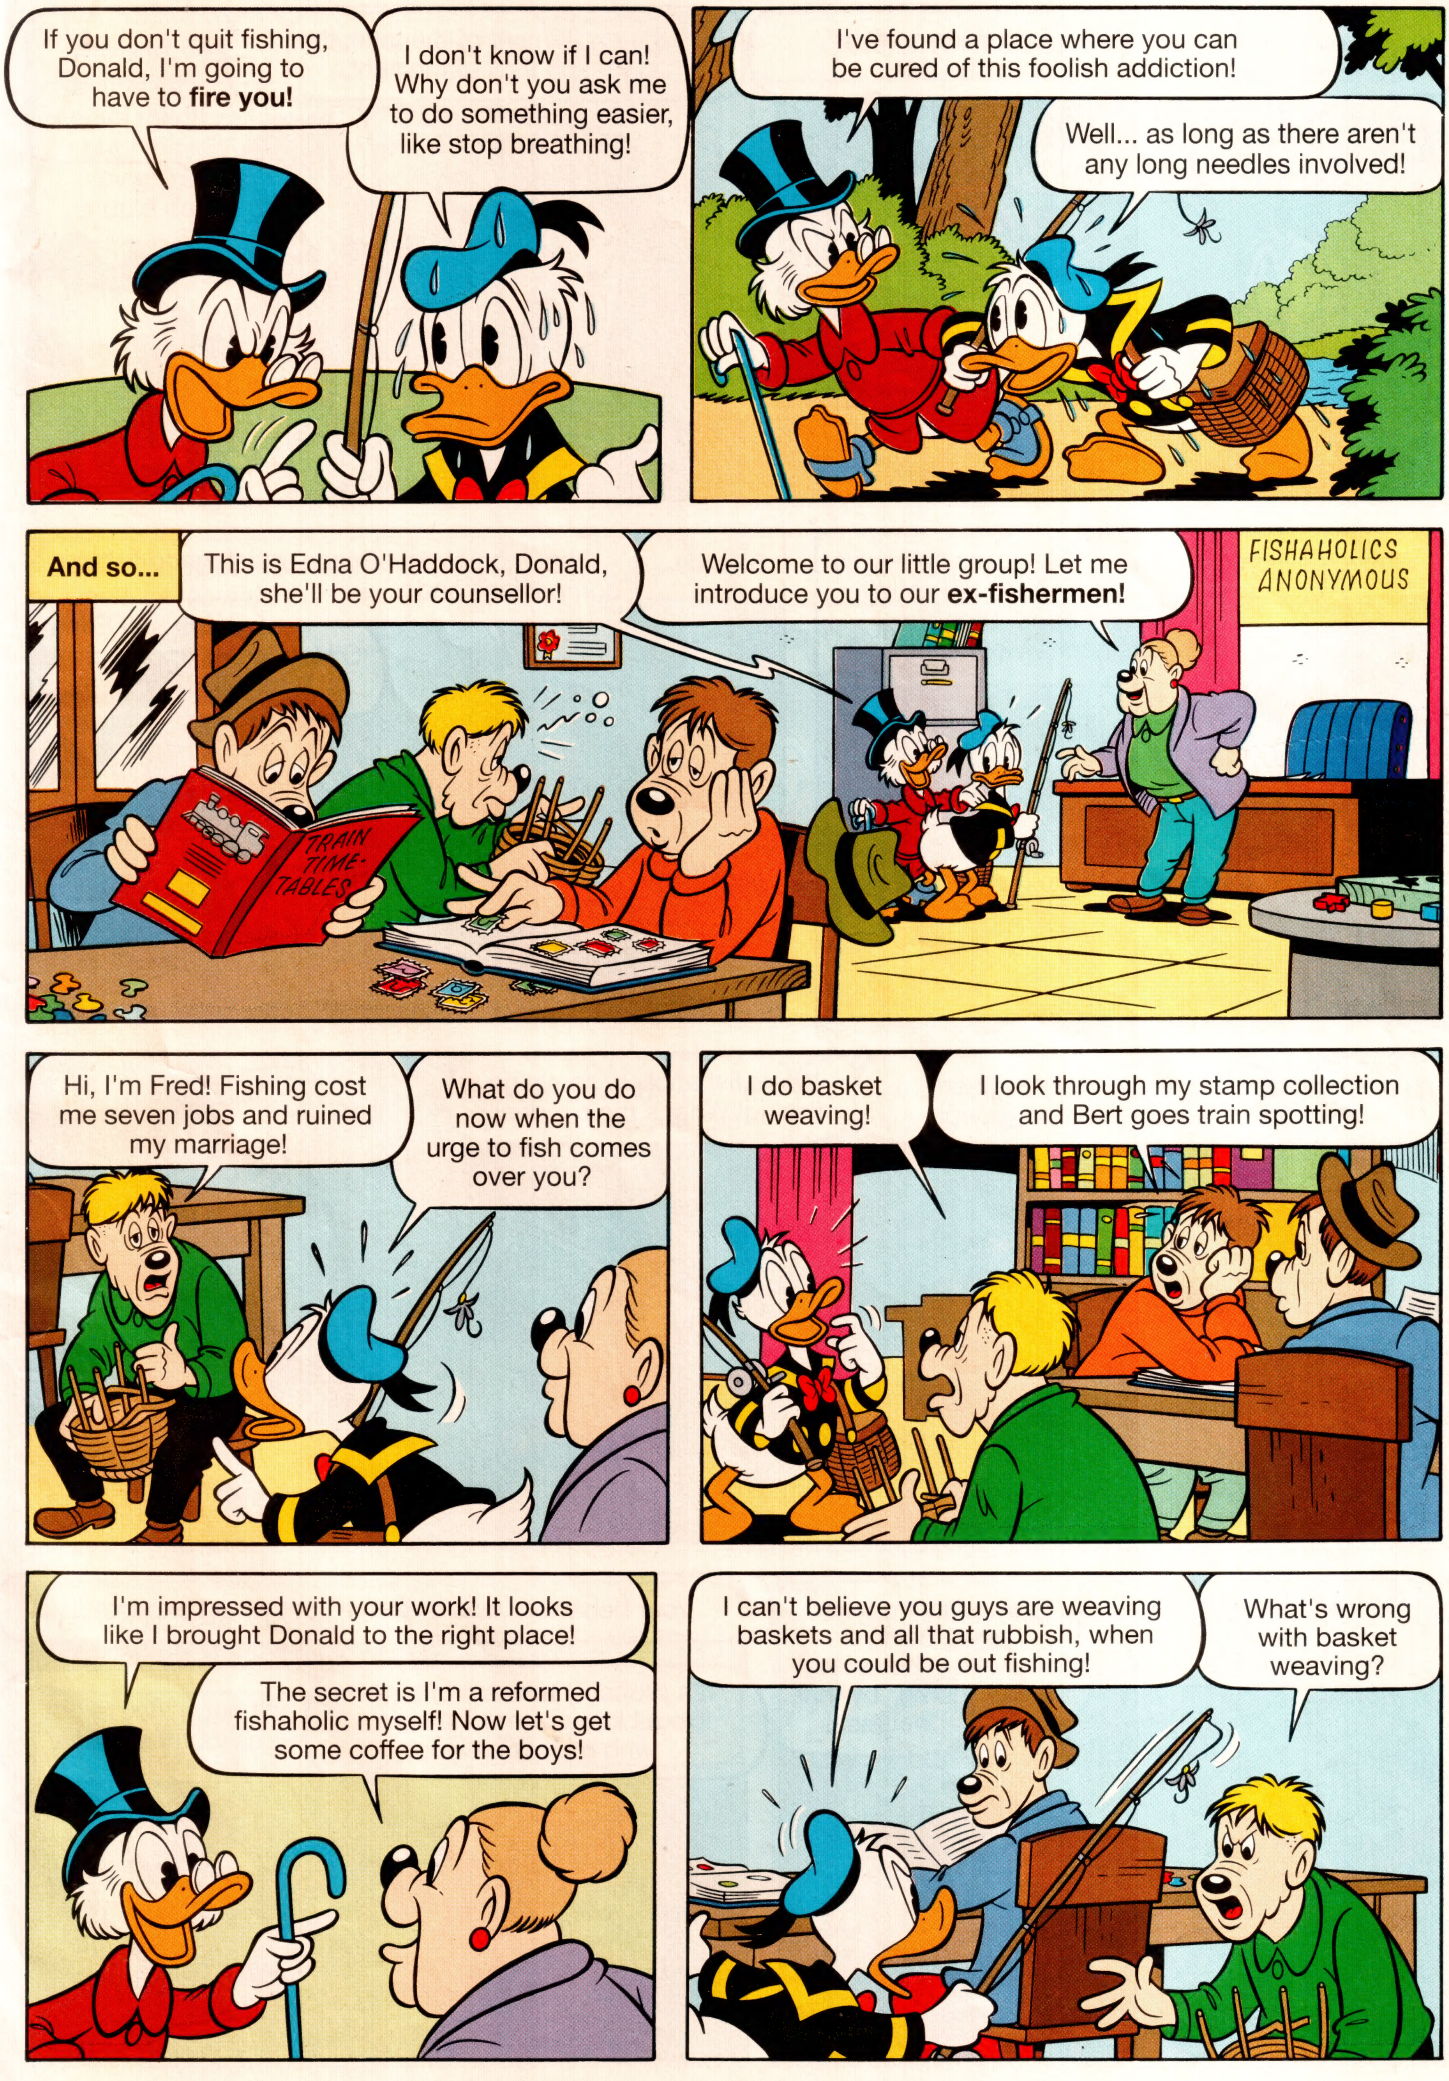
Unca Donald's quiet this morning! He's not running around like crazy because he's late for work!
That must be a fascinating article he's reading! He hasn't looked up from it yet!





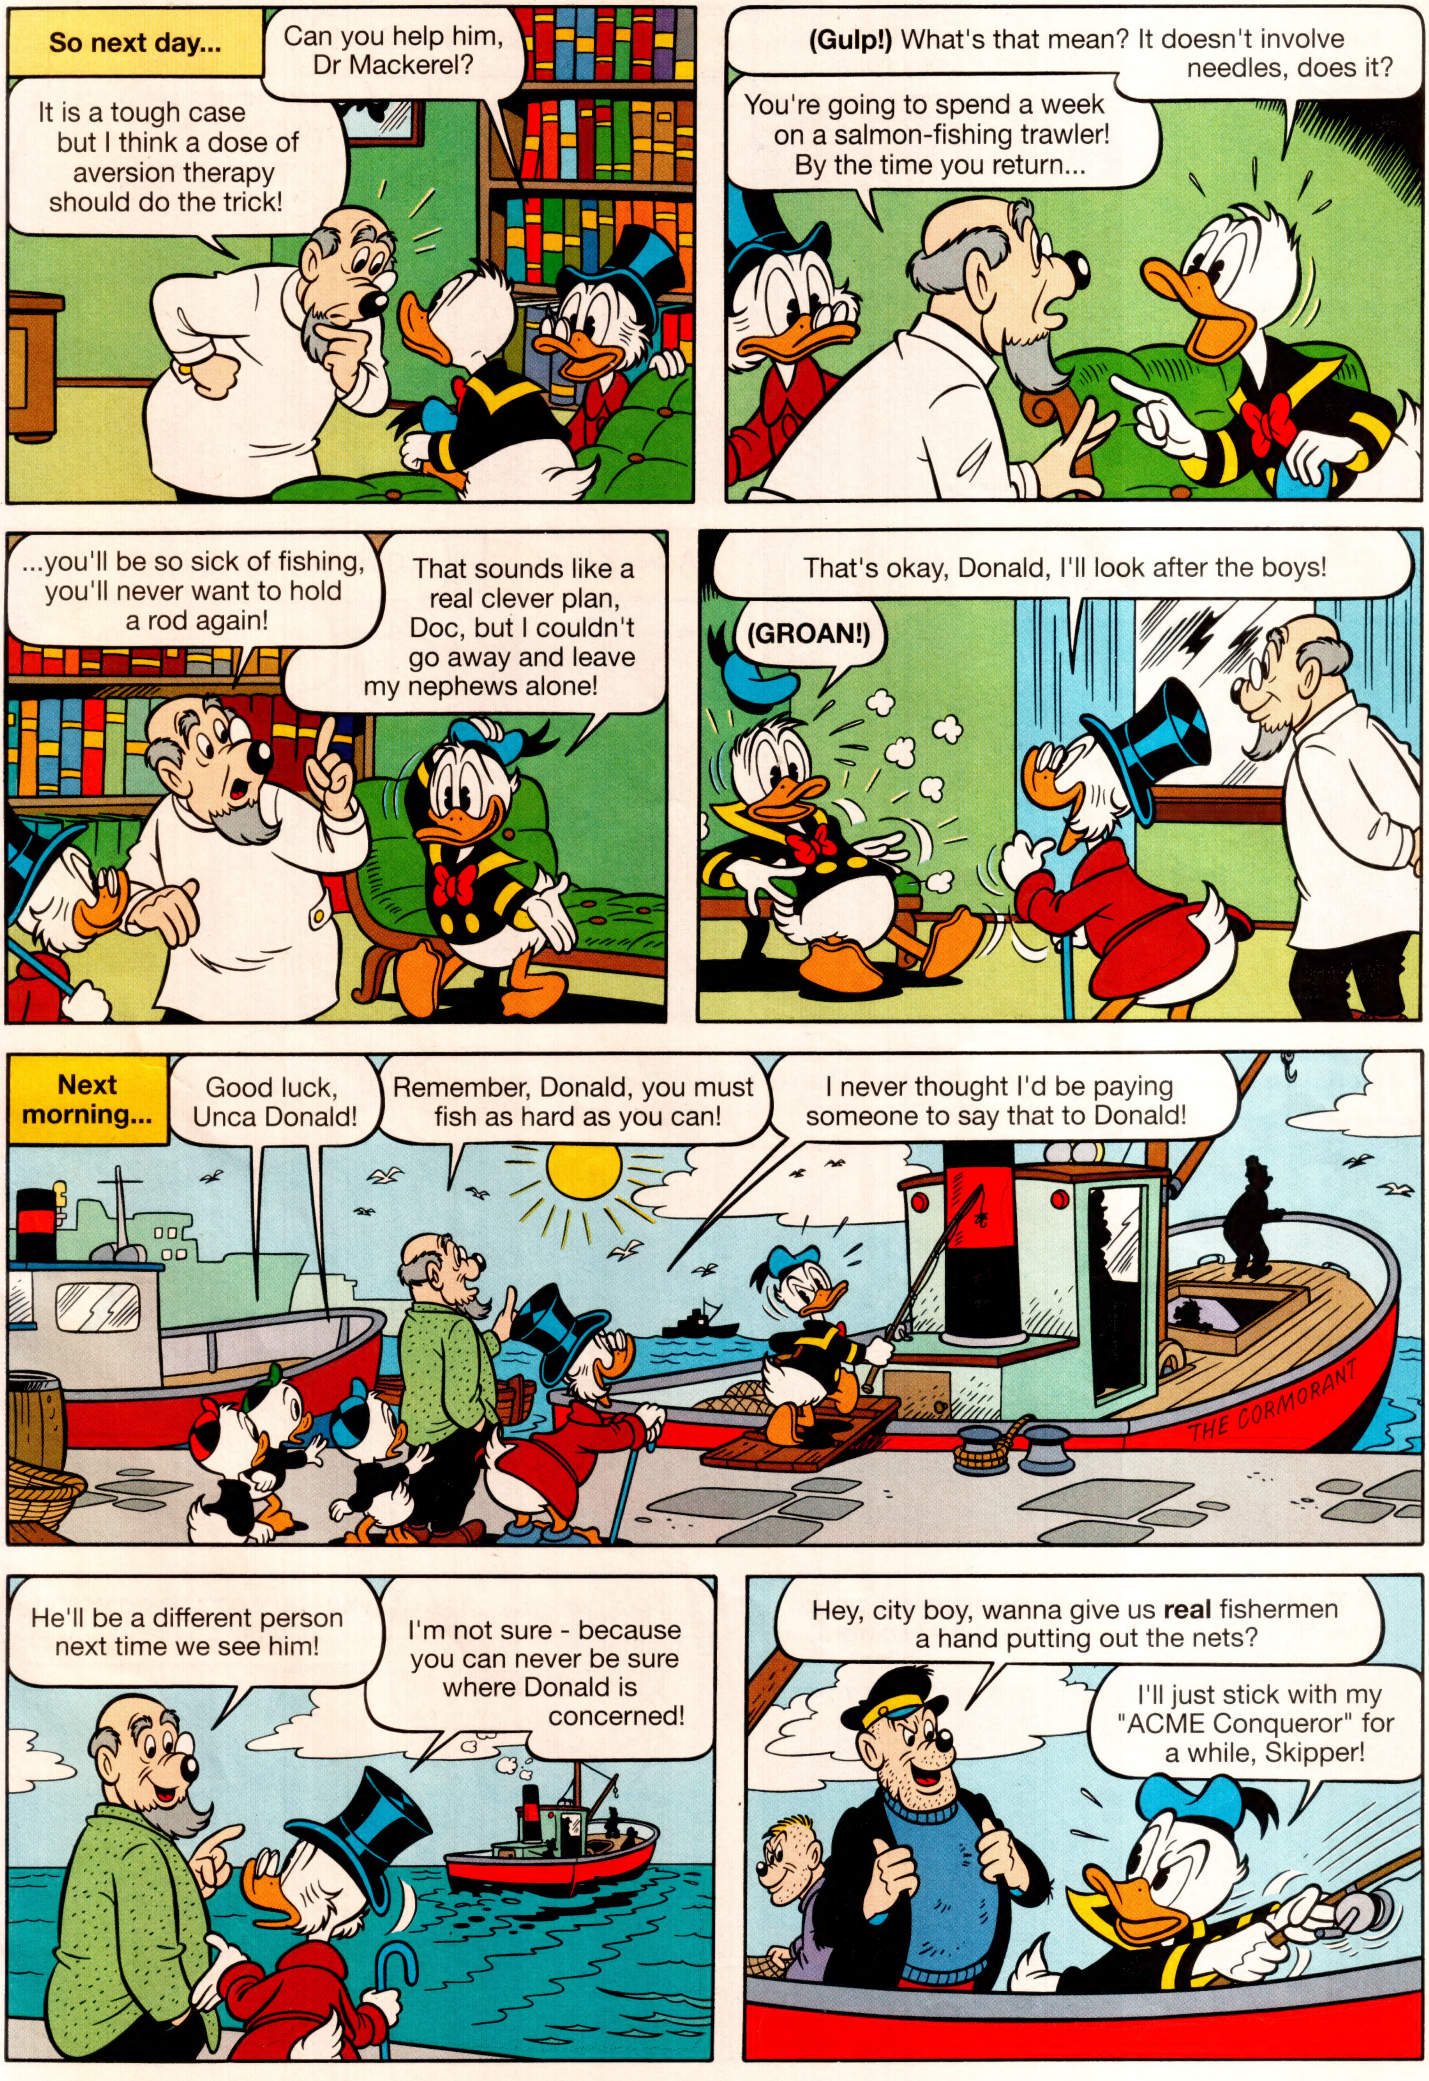


Where is Donald? He's supposed to polish my gold this morning!
He's just rung the office! He wants to speak to you!
I won't be able to come to work today, I've got a pounding headache!
What? You've already had two headaches this week!
Well, the doctor says I should spend the day in bed!
With my trusty "ACME Conqueror" rod, I'm bound to catch a record breaker!
Soon...
Just look at that! And I know just the place to cast from!
(Grunt!) A good fisherman has to go to any lengths to catch his prey!
There's nothing like the moment just before you cast... the concentration, the quiet, the...
DONALD!
WAK!
SPLASH!
I thought I'd find you here! I'm fed up with you skipping work to go fishing!
(Gulp!) S-sorry! When the urge to fish comes over me, I'm powerless to resist it!



If you don't quit fishing, Donald, I'm going to have to fire you!
I don't know if I can! Why don't you ask me to do something easier, like stop breathing!
I've found a place where you can be cured of this foolish addiction!
Well... as long as there aren't any long needles involved!
And so...
This is Edna O'Haddock, Donald, she'll be your counsellor!
Welcome to our little group! Let me introduce you to our ex-fishermen!
FISHAHOLICS ANONYMOUS
TRAIN TIME-TABLES
Hi, I'm Fred! Fishing cost me seven jobs and ruined my marriage!
What do you do now when the urge to fish comes over you?
I do basket weaving!
I look through my stamp collection and Bert goes train spotting!
I'm impressed with your work! It looks like I brought Donald to the right place!
The secret is I'm a reformed fishaholic myself! Now let's get some coffee for the boys!
I can't believe you guys are weaving baskets and all that rubbish, when you could be out fishing!
What's wrong with basket weaving?

Just think of the swish of your line as it flies through the air, and then the bite...
...the excitement of the take, the pulsating thrill of the fight...
...the fish gleaming in the net...
Where's everyone gone?
My guess is they've been led astray by that no-good, bran-for-brains nephew of mine!
Shortly...
What a great day! Peace, quiet, good fishing companions and...
Look out! Edna O'Haddock's approaching at full steam!
You miserable misfit! You've ruined my months of work with the group!
We're fishaholics, so we go fishing! What's the big deal?
(Sob!) Six months' work down the plughole! I can't take it any more!
Stay away from her, boys! Being a fishaholic is better than being "cured" by that nutcase!
Your behaviour was dreadful! Just what I expected!
It's probably a waste of time, but I know someone else who might cure you!
I hope they're not as loony as Edna!



So next day...
Can you help him, Dr Mackerel?
It is a tough case but I think a dose of aversion therapy should do the trick!
(Gulp!) What's that mean? It doesn't involve needles, does it?
You're going to spend a week on a salmon-fishing trawler! By the time you return...
...you'll be so sick of fishing, you'll never want to hold a rod again!
That sounds like a real clever plan, Doc, but I couldn't go away and leave my nephews alone!
That's okay, Donald, I'll look after the boys!
(GROAN!)
Next morning...
Good luck, Unca Donald!
Remember, Donald, you must fish as hard as you can!
I never thought I'd be paying someone to say that to Donald!
THE CORMORANT
He'll be a different person next time we see him!
I'm not sure - because you can never be sure where Donald is concerned!
Hey, city boy, wanna give us real fishermen a hand putting out the nets?
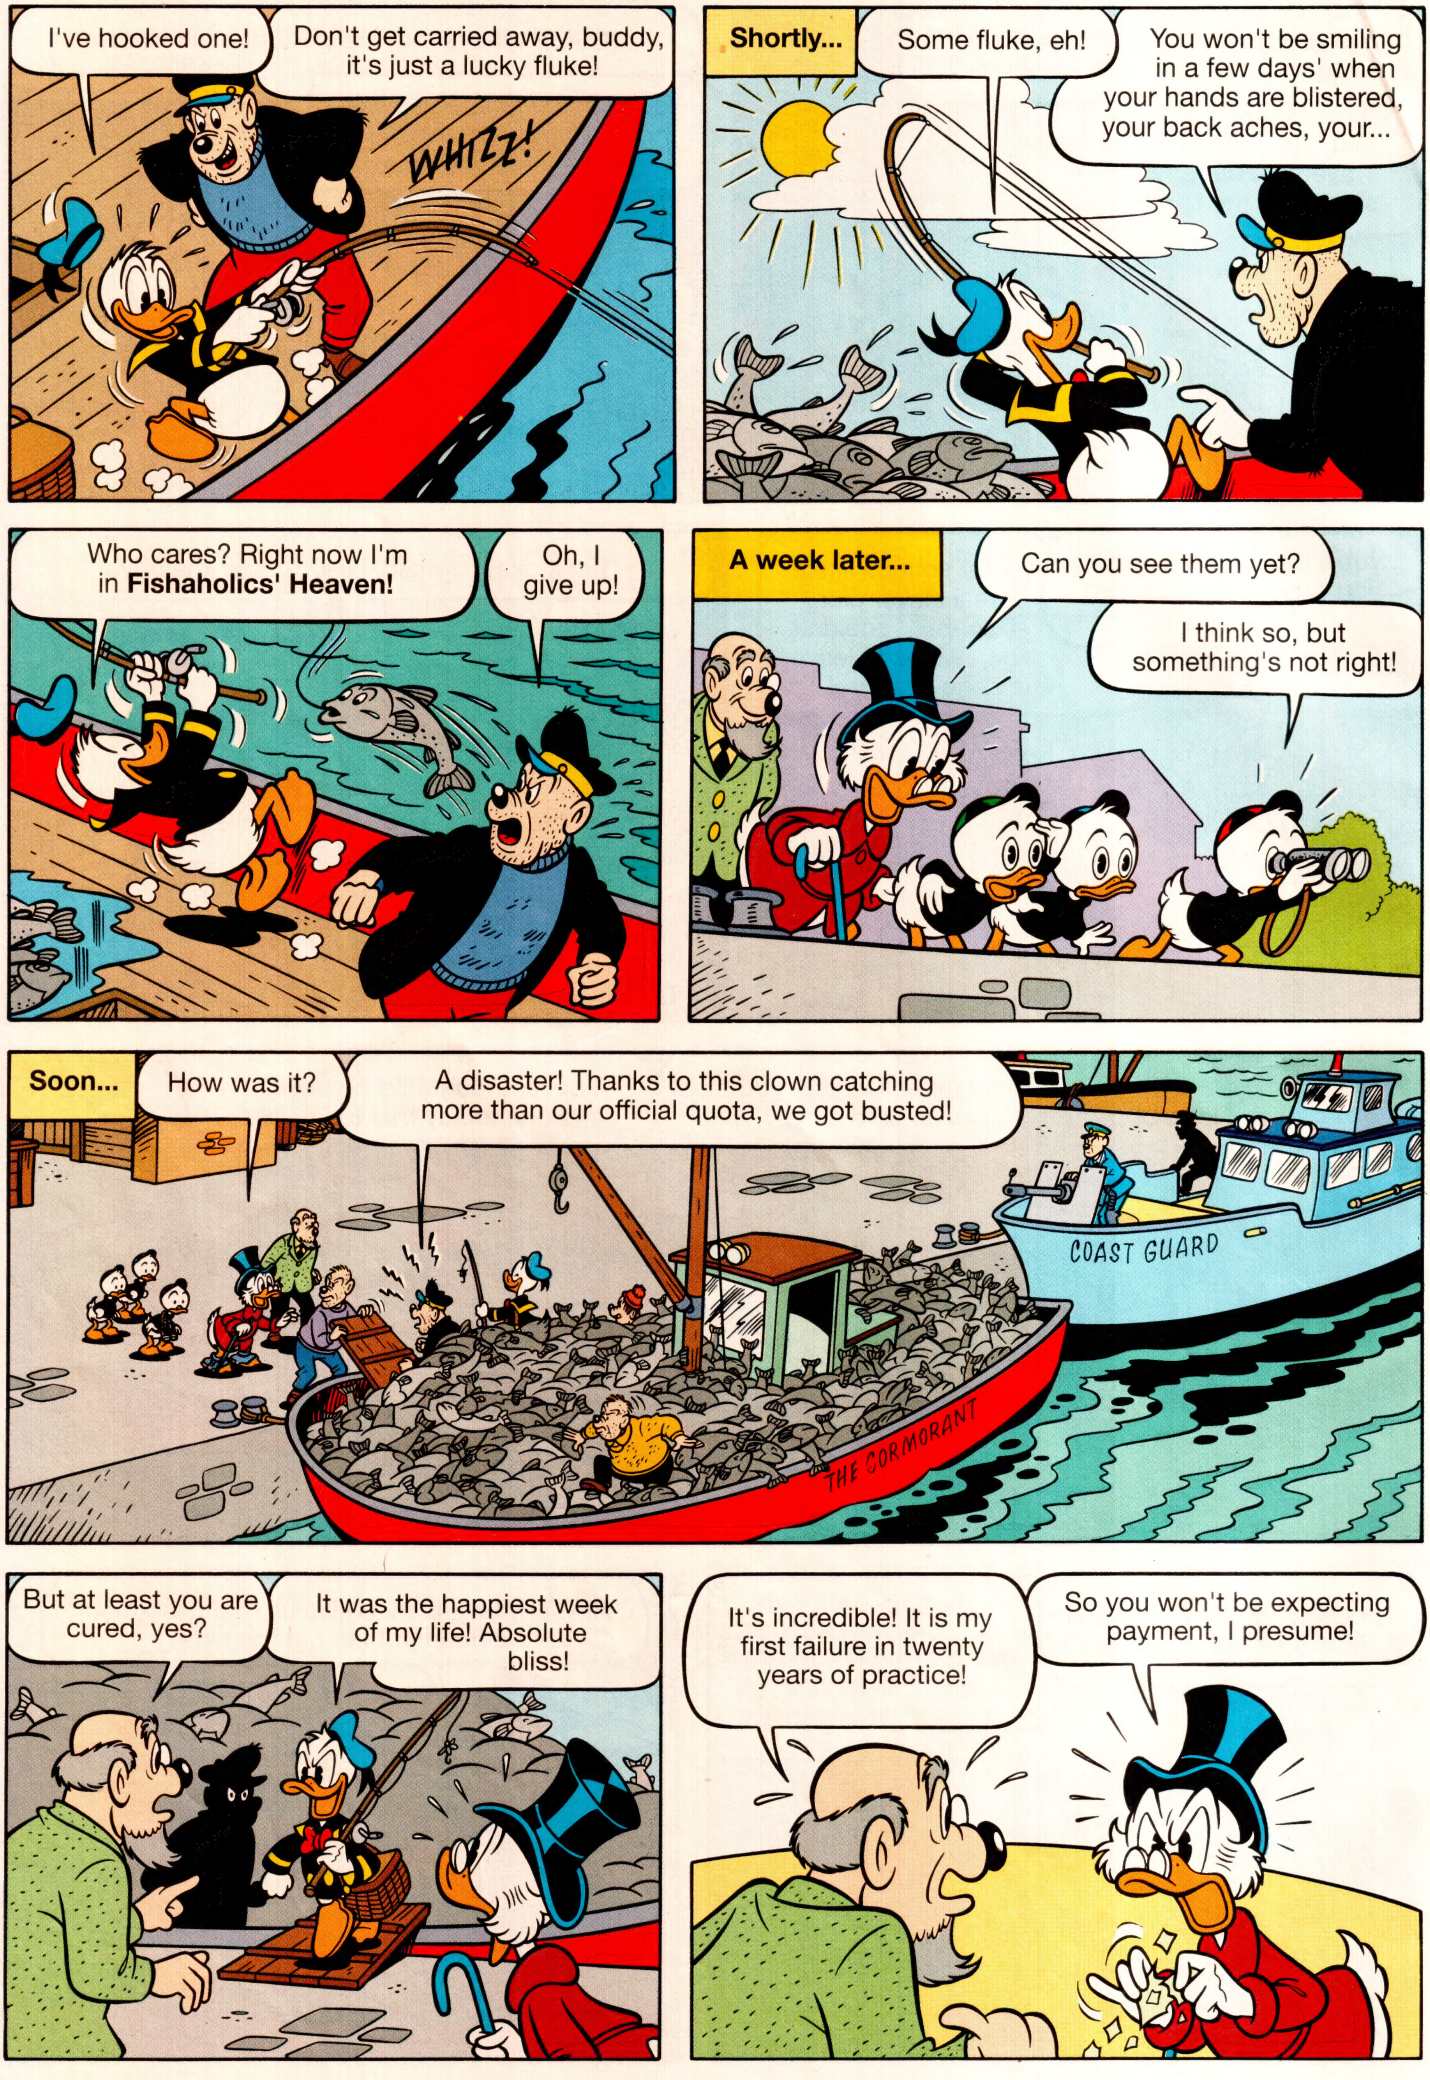
I'll just stick with my "ACME Conqueror" for a while, Skipper!



I've hooked one!
Don't get carried away, buddy, it's just a lucky fluke!
WHIZZ!
Shortly...
Some fluke, eh!
You won't be smiling in a few days' when your hands are blistered, your back aches, your...
Who cares? Right now I'm in Fishaholics' Heaven!
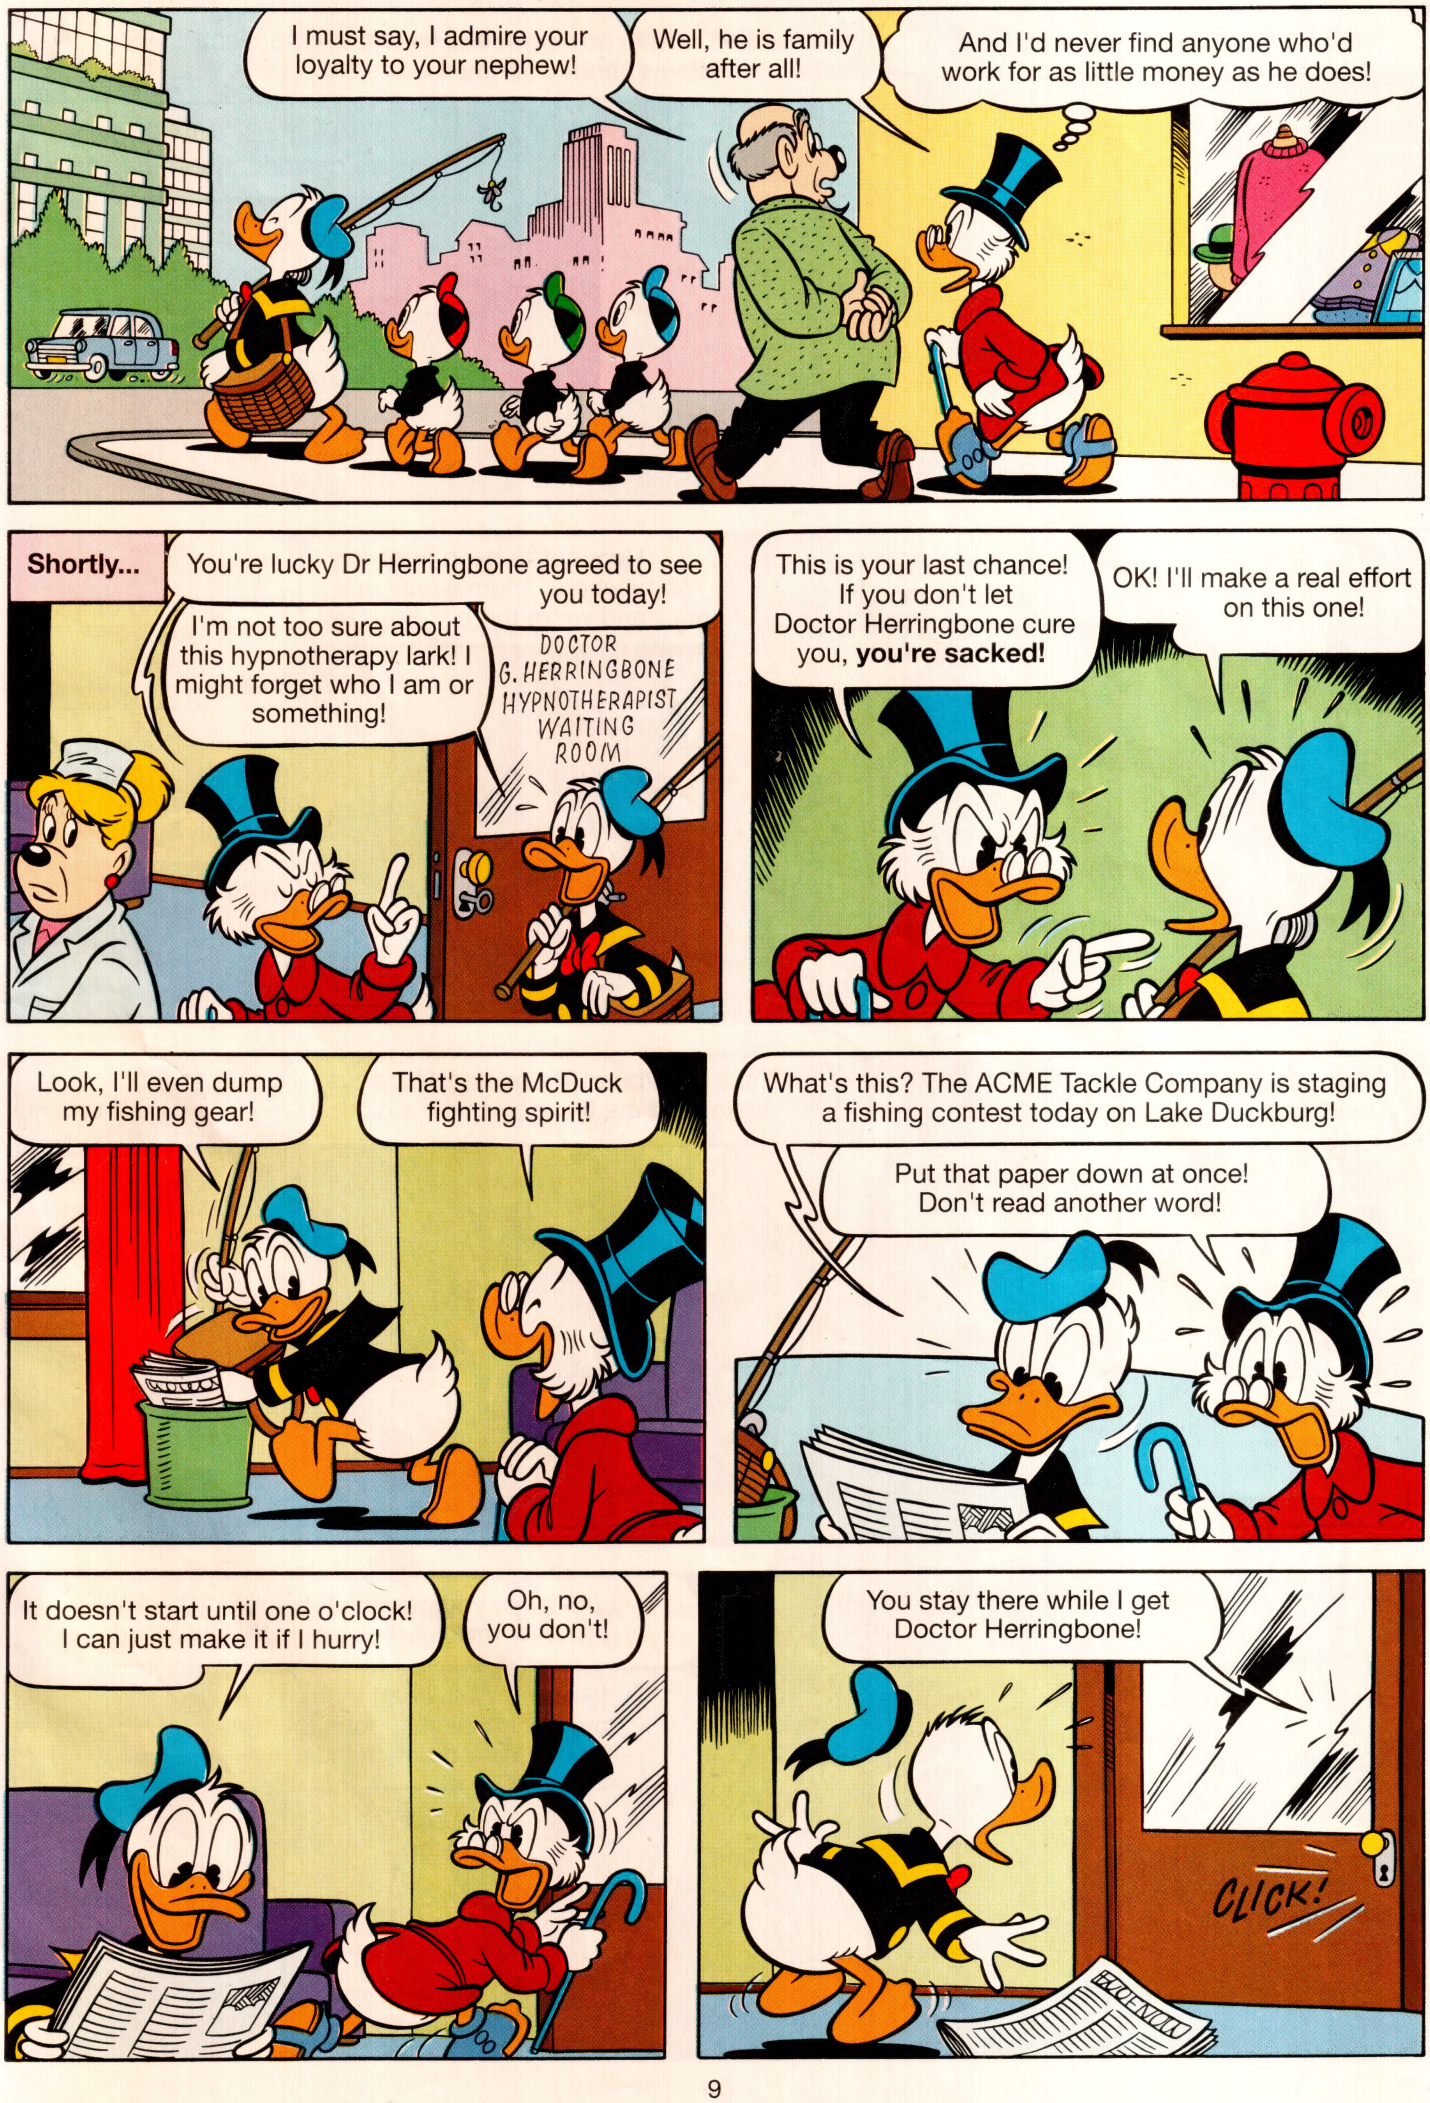
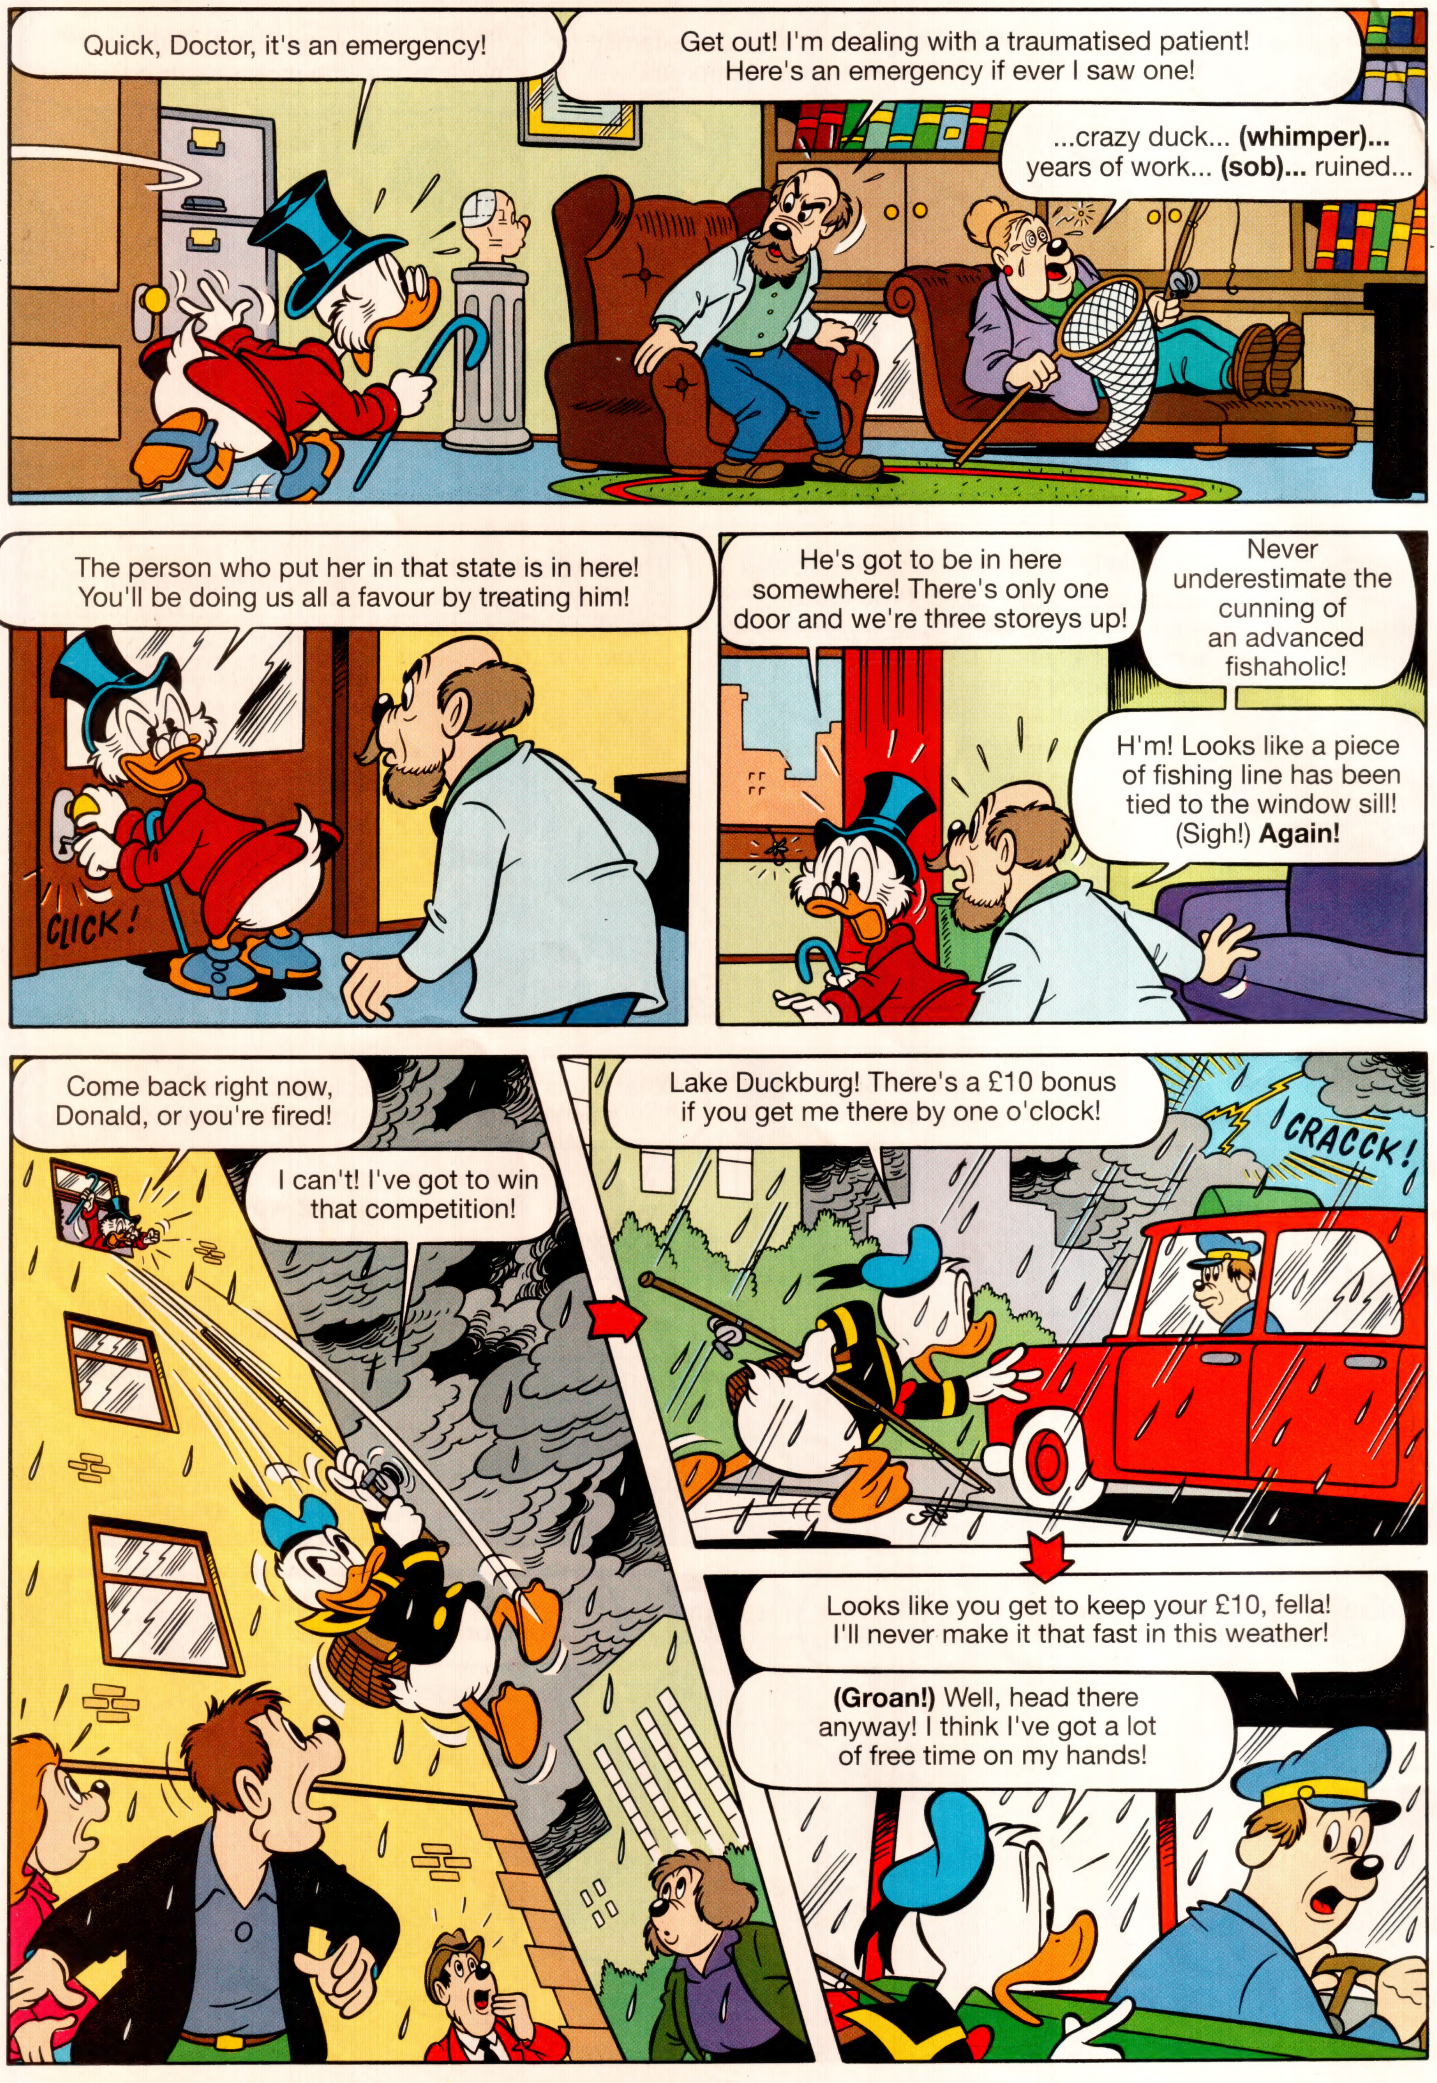
Oh, I give up!
A week later...
Can you see them yet?
I think so, but something's not right!
Soon...
How was it?
A disaster! Thanks to this clown catching more than our official quota, we got busted!
COAST GUARD
THE CORMORANT
But at least you are cured, yes?
It was the happiest week of my life! Absolute bliss!
It's incredible! It is my first failure in twenty years of practice!
So you won't be expecting payment, I presume!



I must say, I admire your loyalty to your nephew!
Well, he is family after all!
And I'd never find anyone who'd work for as little money as he does!
Shortly...
You're lucky Dr Herringbone agreed to see you today!
I'm not too sure about this hypnotherapy lark! I might forget who I am or something!
DOCTOR G. HERRINGBONE HYPNOTHERAPIST WAITING ROOM
This is your last chance! If you don't let Doctor Herringbone cure you, you're sacked!
OK! I'll make a real effort on this one!
Look, I'll even dump my fishing gear!
That's the McDuck fighting spirit!
What's this? The ACME Tackle Company is staging a fishing contest today on Lake Duckburg!
Put that paper down at once! Don't read another word!
It doesn't start until one o'clock! I can just make it if I hurry!
Oh, no, you don't!
You stay there while I get Doctor Herringbone!
CLICK!



Quick, Doctor, it's an emergency!
Get out! I'm dealing with a traumatised patient! Here's an emergency if ever I saw one!
...crazy duck... (whimper)... years of work... (sob)... ruined...
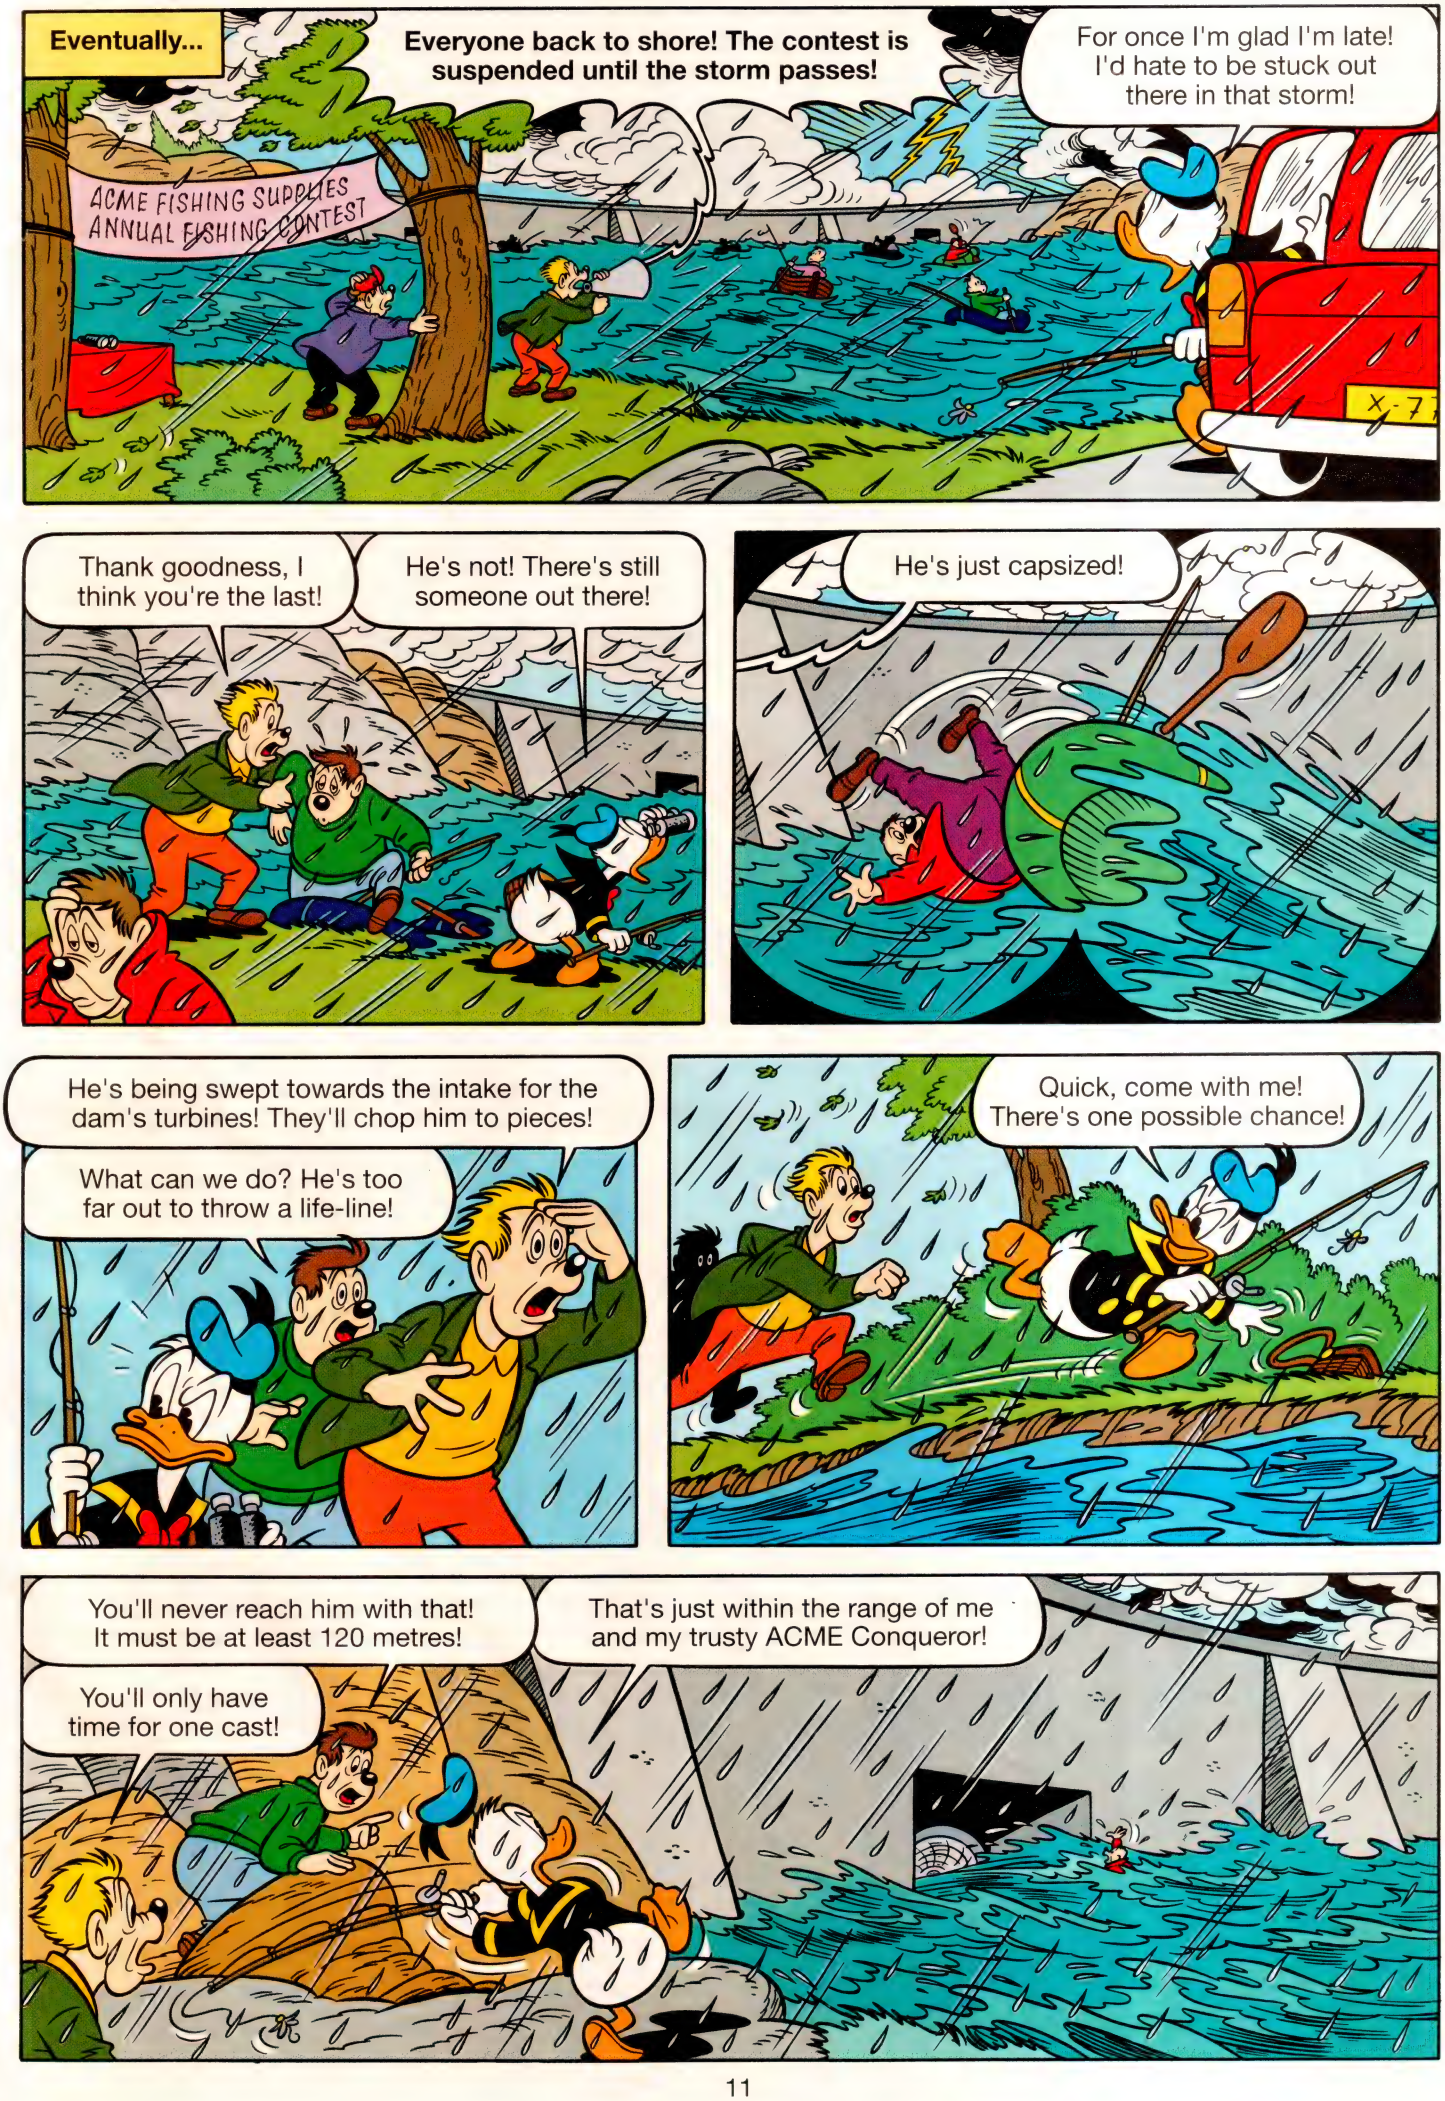
The person who put her in that state is in here! You'll be doing us all a favour by treating him!
CLICK!
He's got to be in here somewhere! There's only one door and we're three storeys up!
Never underestimate the cunning of an advanced fishaholic!
H'm! Looks like a piece of fishing line has been tied to the window sill! (Sigh!) Again!
Come back right now, Donald, or you're fired!
I can't! I've got to win that competition!
Lake Duckburg! There's a £10 bonus if you get me there by one o'clock!
CRACCK!
Looks like you get to keep your £10, fella! I'll never make it that fast in this weather!
(Groan!) Well, head there anyway! I think I've got a lot of free time on my hands!



Eventually...
Everyone back to shore! The contest is suspended until the storm passes!
For once I'm glad I'm late! I'd hate to be stuck out there in that storm!
ACME FISHING SUPPLIES ANNUAL FISHING CONTEST
X-7
Thank goodness, I think you're the last!
He's not! There's still someone out there!
He's just capsized!
He's being swept towards the intake for the dam's turbines! They'll chop him to pieces!
What can we do? He's too far out to throw a life-line!
Quick, come with me! There's one possible chance!
You'll never reach him with that! It must be at least 120 metres!
That's just within the range of me and my trusty ACME Conqueror!
You'll only have time for one cast!

That's all I need!
WHIZZ!
You did it!!
Gasp! You... (splutter)... saved my life!
Allow me to introduce myself... J. Dribsworth, managing director, ACME fishing tackle!
You were saved by one of your own rods... and my superior casting skills, of course!
Minutes later...
You're fired, Donald!
You can't fire me, because I quit! I've found myself a better job!
(Snort!) I bet within a week, you'll get the sack for sneaking off fishing!
Wanna bet?
I'm now the official ACME fishing tackle tester, so I'm getting paid to sneak off fishing!
Has the world gone crazy and nobody told me?
In fact, he'll get the sack if he doesn't!

JUST JOKING

HA HA SNIGGER TEE HEE CHORTLE HO HO GIGGLE

It's the year of the game - so says MB! To celebrate, over the next few months we're giving you the chance to win one of MB Games' classics - Twister, Operation, Ker-plunk, Connect 4 and Splat!

This week's star prize is the amazing Twister - the game that ties you up in knots! The spinner tells you to put your right hand on a red circle. Quick! Everyone scrambles to obey. Watch out - a knee on the ground and you're out!

To try and win, send your favourite jokes to: Just Joking, Mickey's Mail, PO Box 61, London, WC1H 9SG.

Bill: I couldn't walk for a whole year!
Ben: How awful, why was that?
Bill: I wasn't old enough!
Greg Fennick, Plymouth.

Mrs Green: Did you go to Spain for your holiday?
Mrs Blue: I don't know, my husband bought the tickets!
James Connor, Bedfordshire.

STAR JOKE
Q: What did the little skunk want to be when he grew up?
A: A big stinker!
Dale Eddie, Aberdeenshire.

Q: Did you hear about the man who stayed up all night trying to work out what had happened to the sun when it went down?
A: It finally dawned on him!
Tina Dixon, Ipswich.

Q: Why can't bears eat penguins?
A: Because they can't get the wrappers off!
Claire Gill, Northumberland.

Q: Why can't leopards escape from the zoo?
A: Because they're always spotted!
Lee Dixon, Luton.

Q: What goes zzub zzub?
A: A bee flying backwards!
Andrew White, Fulham.

Q: What do Chinamen eat?
A: Cups and saucers!
Fredrick Burbidge, Oxon

Q: Why do we plant bulbs?
A: So the worms can see where they're going!
Kimberley Smith, W. Yorkshire.

Q: Why did the beetle walk over the hill?
A: Because it couldn't walk under it!
Tracey Kirbie, Fife.

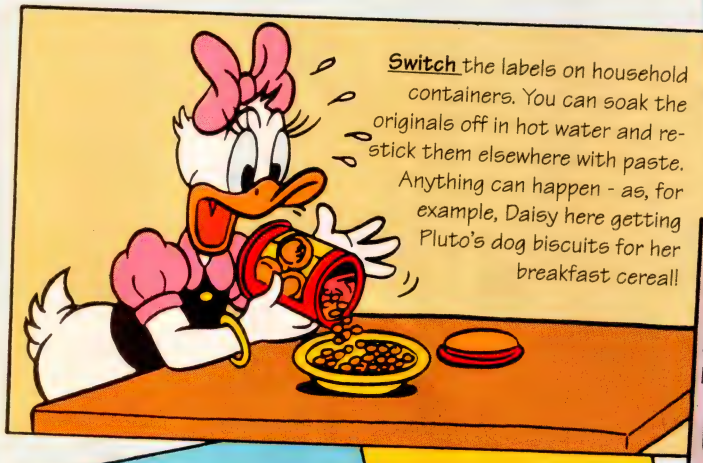
TRICKS 'N THINGS

Find a word which solves the first clue and when spelt backwards solves the second:
Moistens, a meat and veg dish; poet, and dull; pace, and favourites.
Answer:
Wets - stew; bard - drab; step - pets.

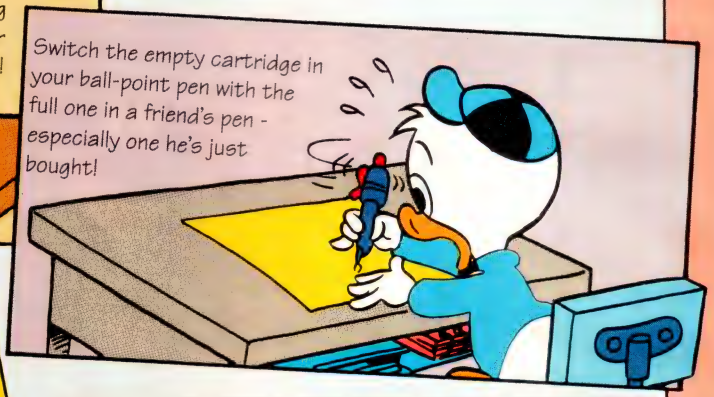
It's a switch snitch!

It's always a bit of fun to switch objects around, as you may recall from our recent trick of putting sugar in the salt cellar, and salt in the sugar-shaker. Here are some more switching-for-laughs tricks for you to try out, but remember: never switch medicine labels or anything inedible like cleaning agents.

Switch C.D.'s (or videos) in their boxes so that pop music comes out as opera!



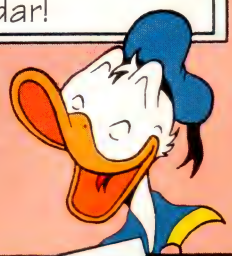
Switch the labels on household containers. You can soak the originals off in hot water and re-stick them elsewhere with paste. Anything can happen - as, for example, Daisy here getting Pluto's dog biscuits for her breakfast cereal!



Switch the empty cartridge in your ball-point pen with the full one in a friend's pen - especially one he's just bought!

Switch over dad's shed keys - but make sure the keys aren't too important! Front door keys are a real no - no!

Switch over the months on mum's or dad's calendar!



Find one four letter word which means the same as each pair of clues, and is spelt the same:
Dance and sphere; retain and part of a castle; part of wicket and release from jail on bond.
Answer: Ball, keep, ball.

Sharp practice

Write the figures 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 in the spaces so that the sum of all the figures in each direction equals 34.

14	1
		13	2
		3	16
4	15

Answer:
First line: 12, 7.
Second line: 11, 8.
Third line: 5, 10.
Fourth line: 6, 9.

"Cutting" the cards

For this trick you need just a pack of cards and a blunt knife with a very shiny surface. Insert it into the pack (see picture) and tell your audience you will name the card above the knife. You get it right every time!

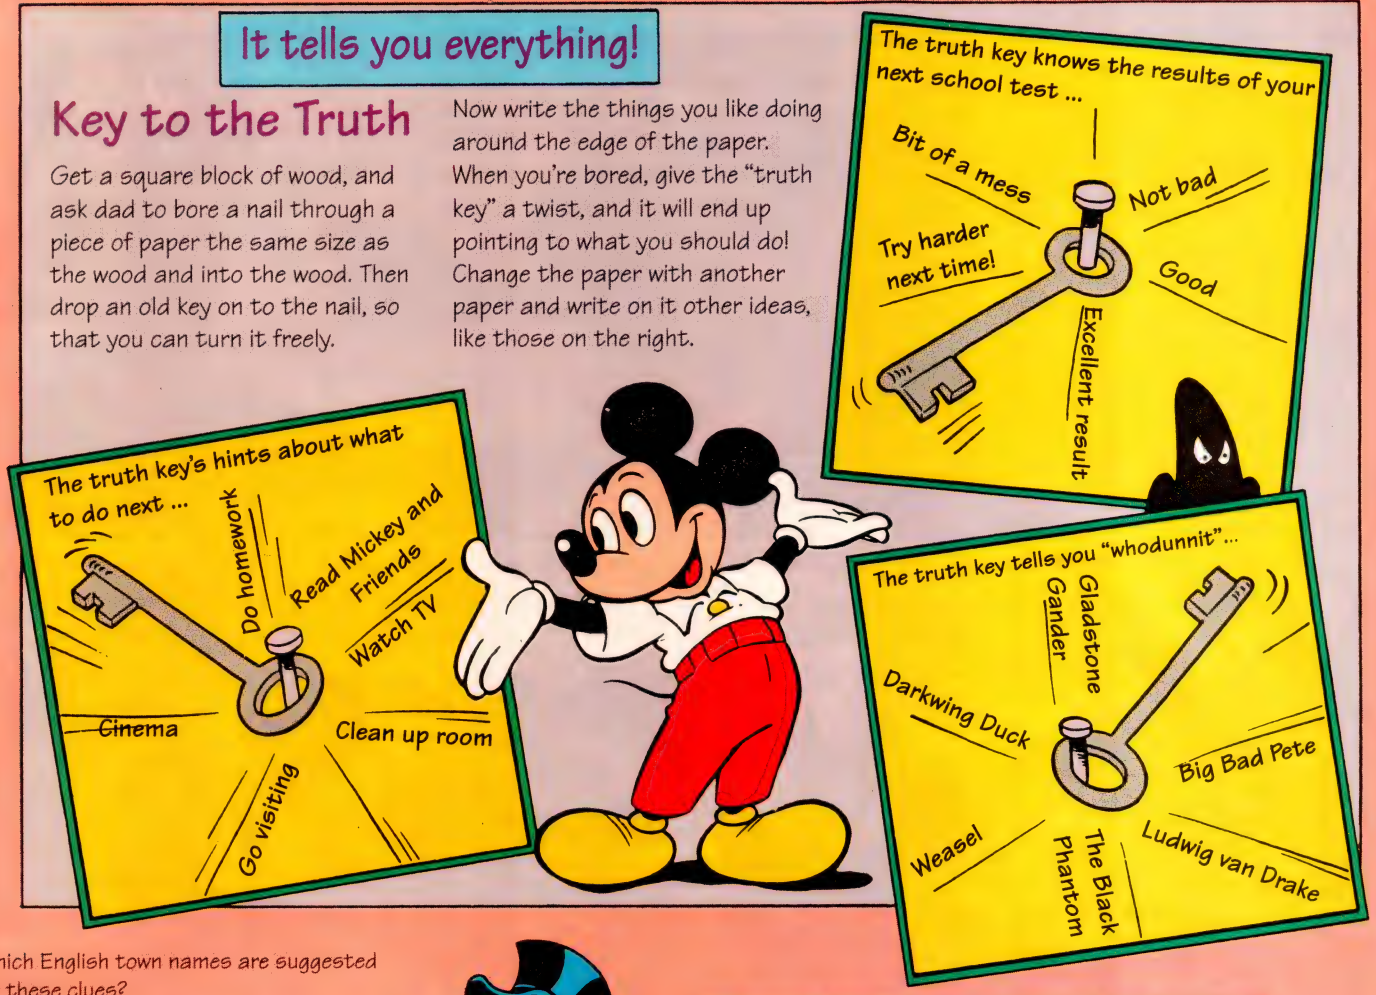
How it's done: Tilt the shiny surface slightly as you insert it in the pack, so that the value of the card immediately above it is reflected in it!

It tells you everything!

Key to the Truth

Get a square block of wood, and ask dad to bore a nail through a piece of paper the same size as the wood and into the wood. Then drop an old key on to the nail, so that you can turn it freely.

Now write the things you like doing around the edge of the paper. When you're bored, give the "truth key" a twist, and it will end up pointing to what you should do! Change the paper with another paper and write on it other ideas, like those on the right.



Which English town names are suggested by these clues?

1. Donkey noise. 2. What a dog does. 3. No more burials. 4. People who handle a boat.

Answer: 1. Bray. 2. Barking. 3. Gravesend. 4. Crewe.

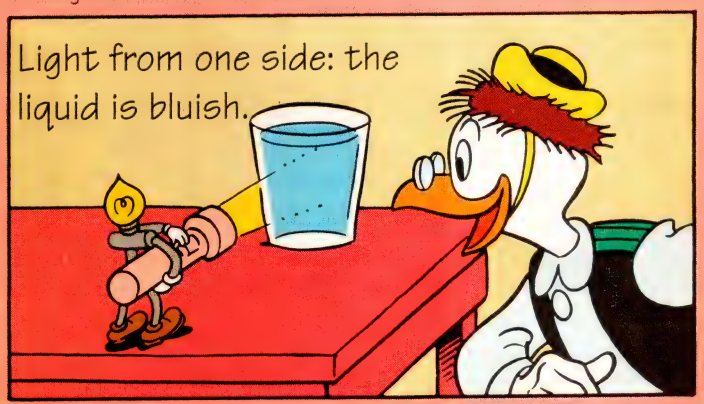
Inside Gyro's workshop

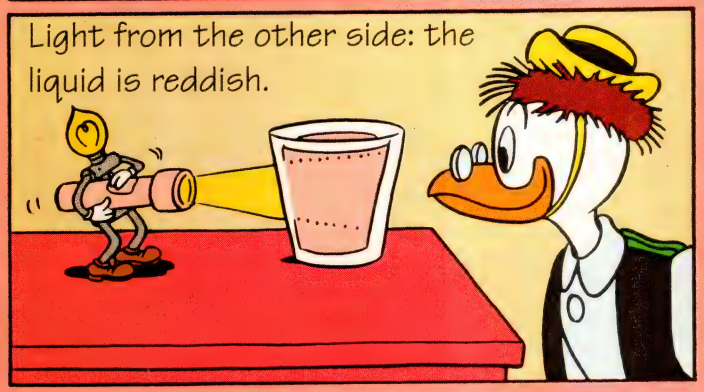
Two kinds of colour

Just before it gets dark, stir a few drops of milk - skimmed milk if possible - into a glass of water. You will now have a cloudy liquid.

Stand the glass near a window and project a torch beam from one side into the glass. The liquid will appear to be bluish.

Now project the beam from the other side into the glass. The liquid will appear to be reddish.





The blue tinge is caused by the sky's reflection; the reddish tinge by the reflecting sunset.

Seeing's believing!

The magic ruler

Lay a long ruler, or a smooth stick, across the back of a book and the forefinger of one hand, as Goofy is doing below.

Now move your finger slowly towards the back of the book. How long will it be before the ruler falls down?

The answer is that it won't. It will move across the book as your finger moves gently along. When your finger meets the book, the ruler should be balancing at about its centre, on the back of the book.

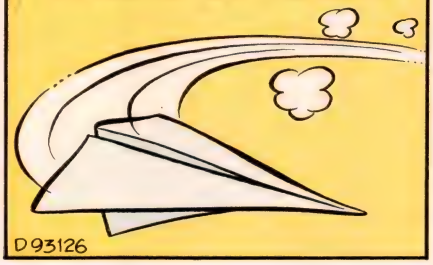
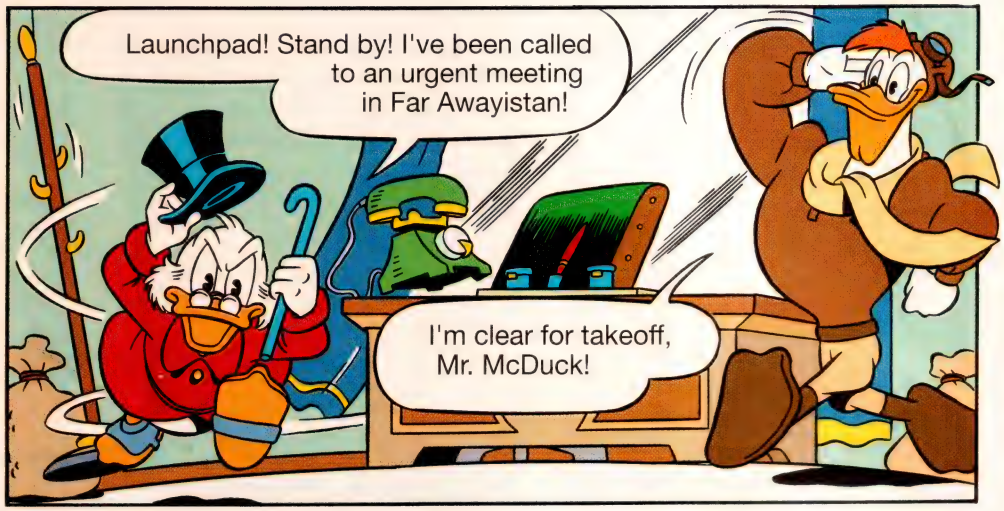
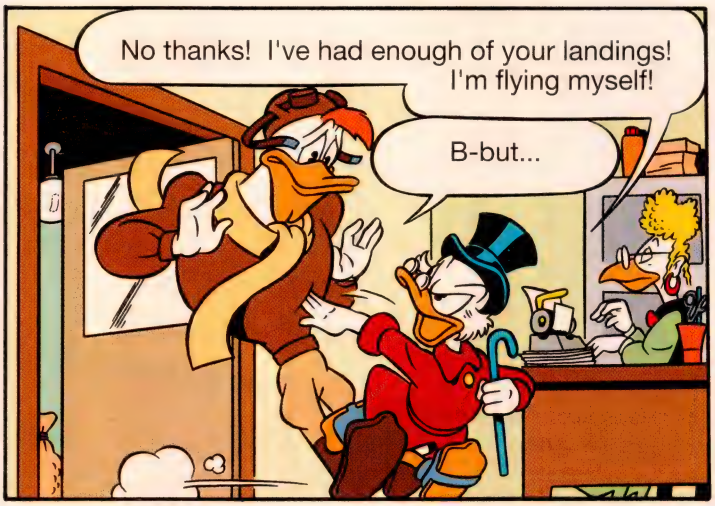
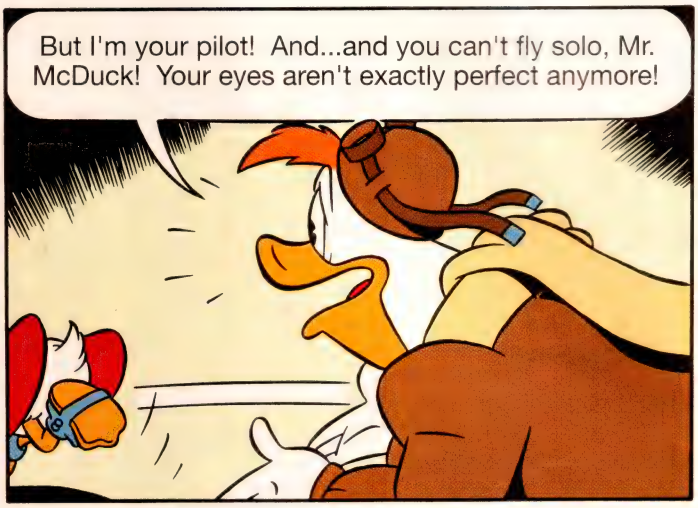
Waste Of Talent



D 93126







What a waste of talent!
This paper aeroplane is all I'm allowed to fly!
Uh oh! The paper plane flew past the radar antenna!
Wak! There's something on the radar! It must be another plane coming in for a landing!
I'd better get off the runway - fast!
Looks like one of my landings!
CRUNCH!
Are you okay, Mr. McDuck?
Yes, thank goodness! But I can't understand it...I'm sure I saw a plane on the radar!
Maybe you were right...my eyesight isn't good enough to fly by myself!
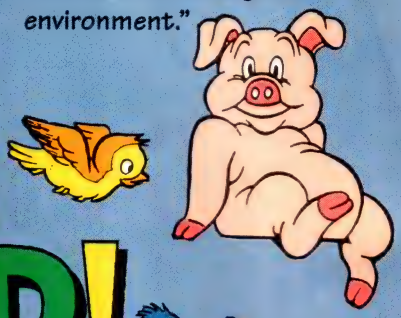
Don't worry, Mr. McDuck! You've still got me!

LET'S TAKE CARE OF OUR WORLD!

Mickey says: "Have fun, everyone - but here's how to make sure your fun doesn't damage the environment."



Lots of things we do when we enjoy ourselves can have a harmful effect on the environment.

But it doesn't have to be like that, if we stop to think about it. No one wants ruined woods, polluted rivers, lakes clogged up with rubbish, smelly air and undrinkable drinking water.

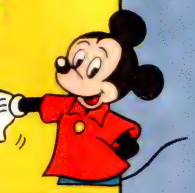
So this week Mickey and his friends have put together a few ideas which won't stop the fun - and won't spoil the world for other folks!

Mickey says: "Our ancestors first developed about 100 million years ago. They all made sure they passed on the world in good shape to their descendants.

"That must be something WE must do, too!"

A QUESTION OF SPORT

These are the things to do ... IN!



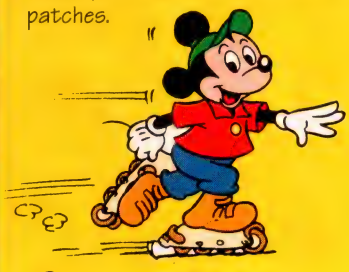
These are the things NOT to do ... OUT!

Gently does it!

When it snows, don't sledge in just one place, because too much wear quickly damages the ground under the snow. So keep moving around to new snow patches.

Snow plough

Don't rip up and down the same slope when it snows. Britain rarely has enough snow for ground outside designated ski-slopes not to be damaged by over-activity.

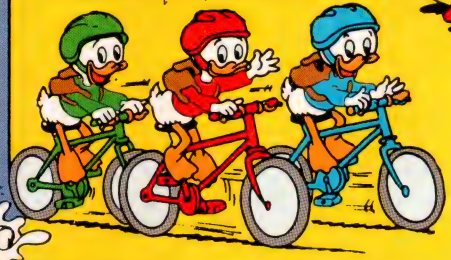


Souped-up cars ...

... do lots of damage to the environment. Noisy exhausts, hotted-up engines, loud car radios are strictly the stuff of show-offs.

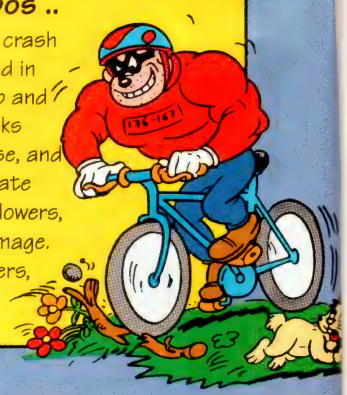
Going on rollers

Roller-skating is a really environmentally-friendly sport! If your wheels are quiet, that's better still!



Biking Rambos ..

... the types who crash their bikes around in woodland, ride up and down grassy banks until they collapse, and ride across delicate plants and wild flowers, do enormous damage. Not very nice bikers, these!



Cross-country cycling...

... is another harmless sport. But keep to cycle paths, and take your rubbish away with you after you've stopped for a break.

Wild Willy's fibbing!

You're wrong, Willy! You can have a lot more fun travelling under natural power, or under your own power!

SO YOU'D LIKE TO OWN A PET?

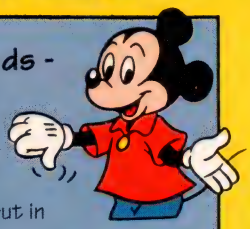
Friends for you - and the world!

Man's best friend is a dog. But remember - a dog can live about 15 years, and needs 15 years of attention!

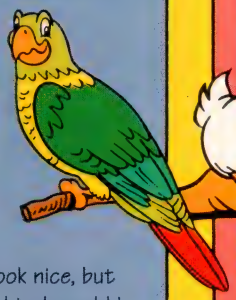
A cat's like a house-trained tiger. But make sure you buy from a cat's home.

Hamsters, guinea pigs and pet mice present no problems for the environment.

Good friends - but to be avoided!

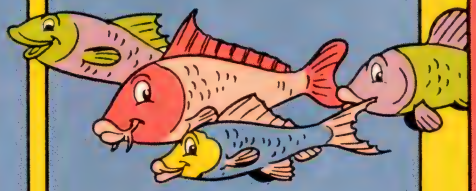


Parrots shouldn't be put in cages - they belong in the wild. Thousands still die annually while being transported around the world as pets. Avoid parrots, and get advice before buying any other kind of caged bird.



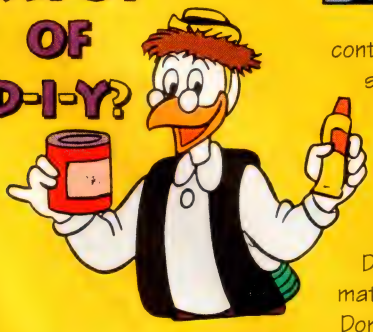
Tortoises may look nice, but they're not allowed to be sold in the U.K. now. Forget them.

Fish need a lot of care - and you can't take them for a walk! Get advice before buying.



Snakes, lizards and other reptiles belong in the wild. Don't make pets of them!

A SPOT OF D-I-Y?



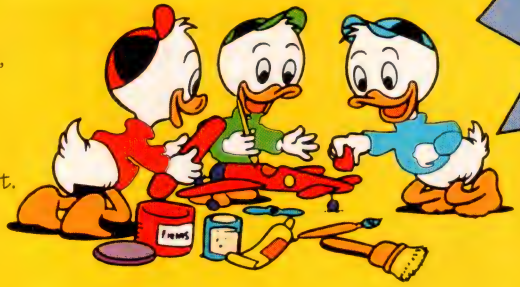
contain solvent, which can give you a skin rash. Some glues are also harmful.

Best buys are environmentally-friendly colours, and glues which are water-based.

Don't use anything like foam material, which causes pollution. Don't throw left-over varnish in the dustbin. Set it aside and ask Mum or Dad to take it to the amenity tip for proper disposal.

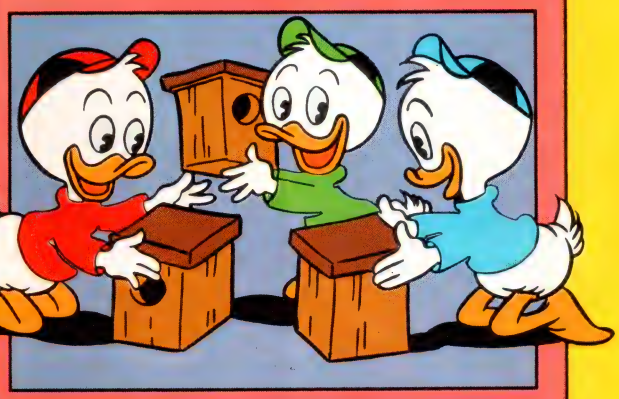
DON'T DIE FOR IT!

If you like building models from kits, take a long look at the kind of materials supplied with the kit. Some are not environmentally-friendly, and there's no reason for it. Some varnishes, for instance,



WORLD OF NATURE

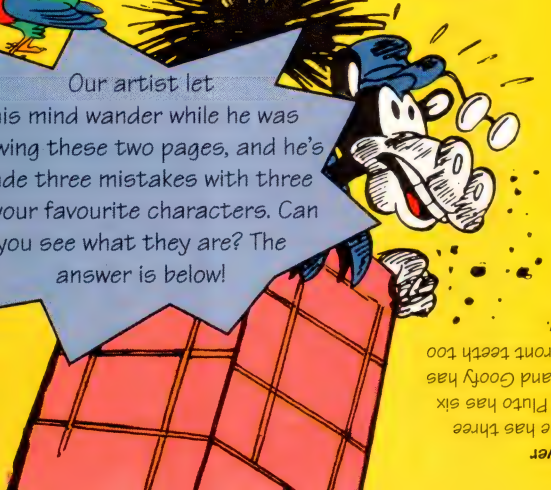
Give birds a break!



Lots of birds are very hungry in winter - some even die of starvation. Anything you put out for them is especially welcome - and gives you a great chance to get started on the fascinating hobby of bird-watching. Here are a few tips to get you going ...

* A bird table is easy to build. Just make sure it's one and a half metres above ground, to deter cats.
* Hang a nut dispenser from underneath the table. Plastic ones last longest. They're reasonably priced, from any pet shop.
* Make notes about which birds visit your bird table. Which ones are shy, which are bold? Can you identify single birds? Mickey's most frequent visitor is a chirpy wagtail with only one leg!
* Make a nesting box (above). Fix it well above ground level, and make sure it's absolutely secure.
* If you like bird watching, a book that will help you identify your visiting birds is a must.

Our artist let his mind wander while he was drawing these two pages, and he's made three mistakes with three of your favourite characters. Can you see what they are? The answer is below!



Answer
Minnie has three ears, Pluto has six legs, and Cooky has two front teeth too many.

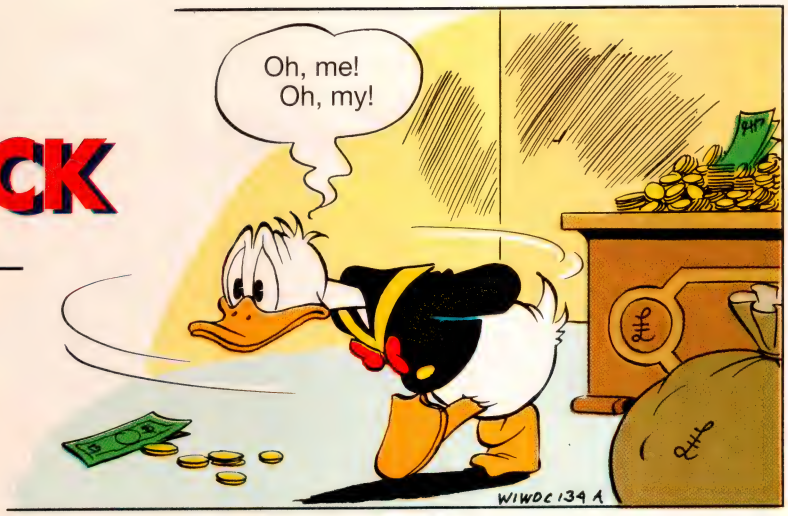
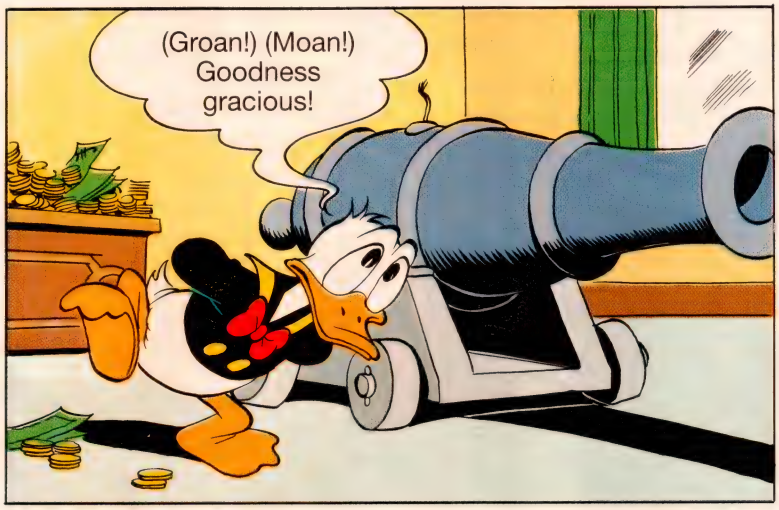
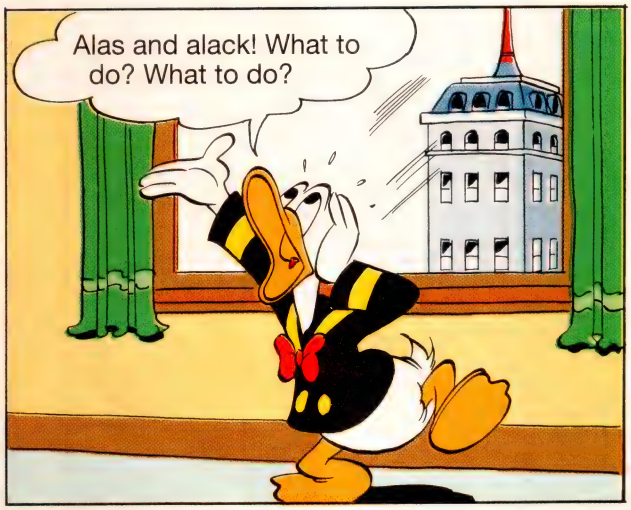
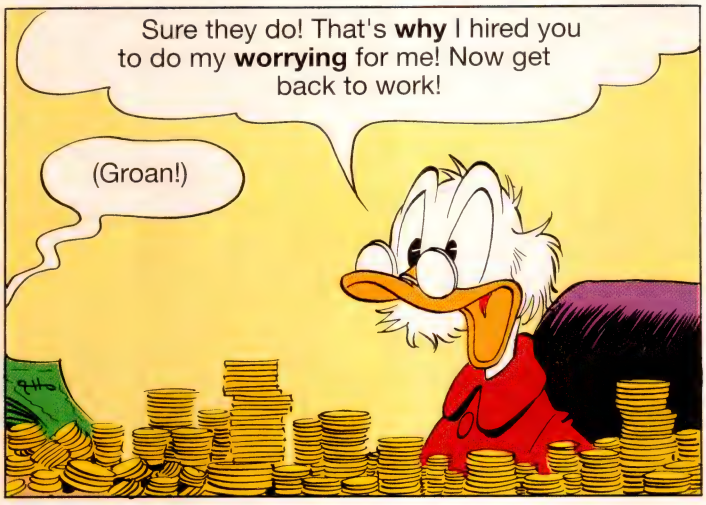
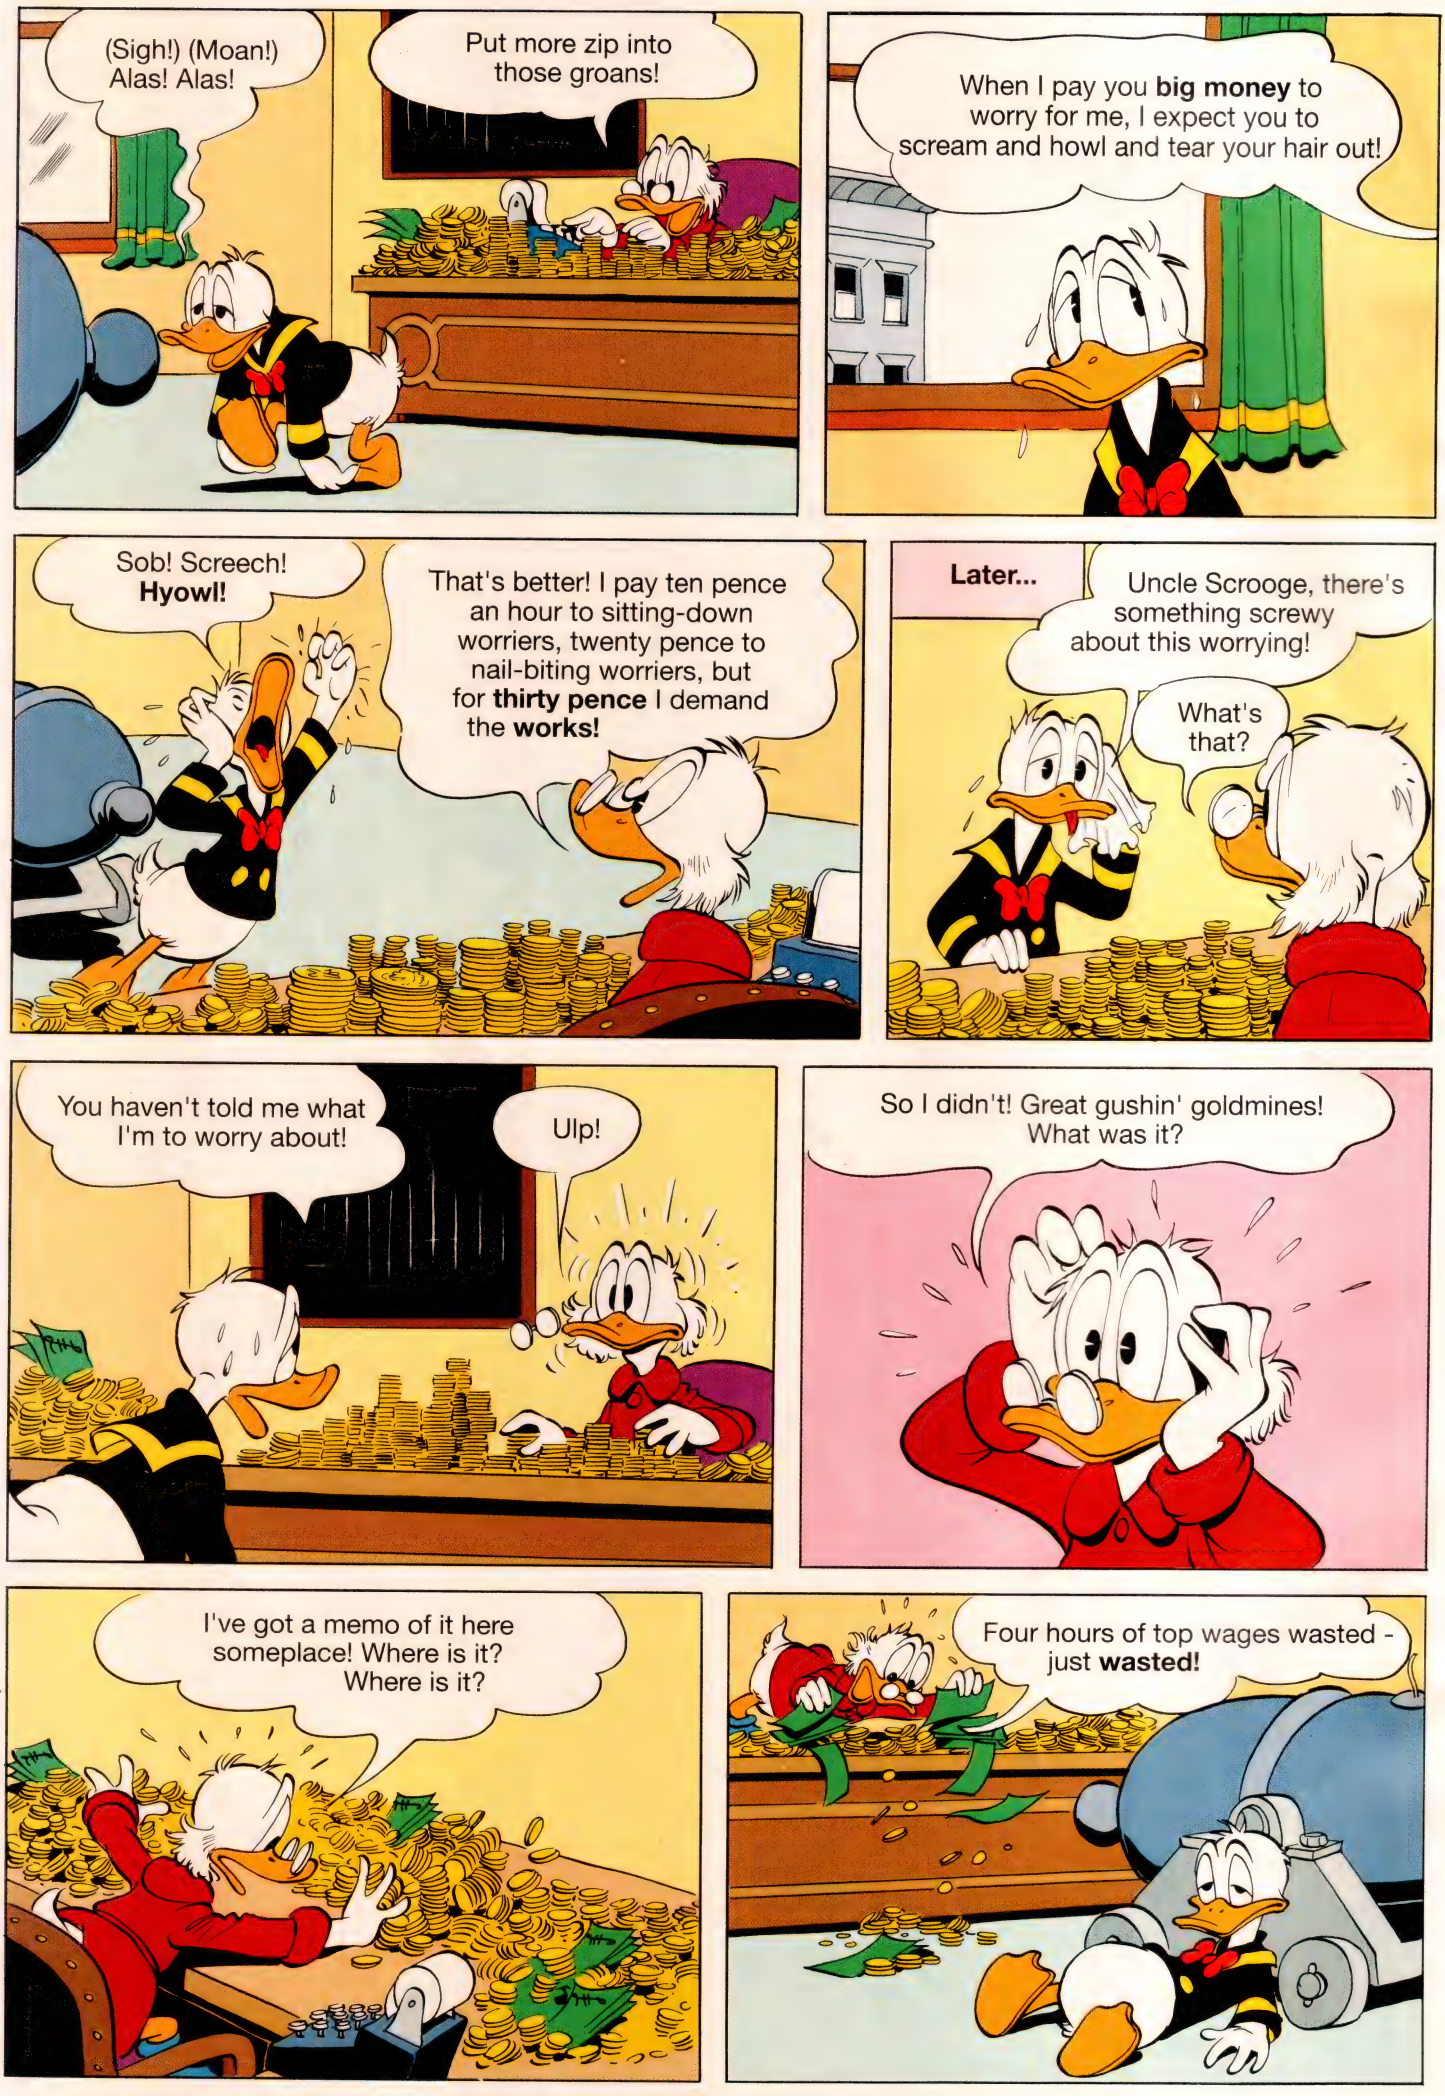
Cannon Ball











(Sigh!) (Moan!) Alas! Alas!
Put more zip into those groans!
When I pay you big money to worry for me, I expect you to scream and howl and tear your hair out!
Sob! Screech! Hyowl!
That's better! I pay ten pence an hour to sitting-down worriers, twenty pence to nail-biting worriers, but for thirty pence I demand the works!
Later...
Uncle Scrooge, there's something screwy about this worrying!
What's that?
You haven't told me what I'm to worry about!
Ulp!
So I didn't! Great gushin' goldmines! What was it?
I've got a memo of it here someplace! Where is it? Where is it?
Four hours of top wages wasted - just wasted!

RAP! RAP!
Sheeth! Some pest would come here when I'm busy!
COME IN!
Messenger boy!
That all? I almost wasted a shot!
What's the message, sonny - something important?
It's from the chief of police!
Yimminy Christmas! Heavens to Betsy!
"The Beagle Boys have escaped jail! Be on guard!"
That's what I wanted you to worry about, Donald! The terrible Beagle Boys!

Oh, me, oh, my! Woe is us! The Beagle Boys! The terrible Beagle Boys!
I want you to think up a way to stop those robbers!
Yes, Uncle Scrooge! Yeow! (Moan!) Alack! Alas!
How much do you have in your safe, Uncle Scrooge?
How should I know? It'd take thirteen years to count it!
£100 NOTES
Worry about those robbers! Confound it! I'm not paying you thirty pence to ask questions!
Skee-reeech! Eyeaieouo! The Beagle Boys! Yeow!
I've got it! That cannon will stop them!
Cannon? Uh! Why, sure! Why didn't I think of that?
ONE PECK
Come on, Beagle Boys! Just try to get to my safe!

How's the powder - fresh?
I suppose so!

I bought this cannon loaded - right after the war!
Which war?

The Boer war! Don't be so doggoned dumb!

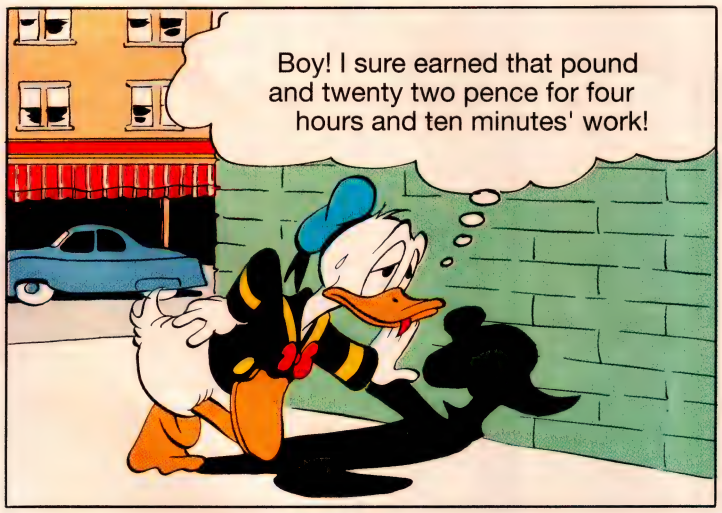
Okay! Okay! You can take it from here! I'm going home to get some rest!



Boy! I sure earned that pound and twenty two pence for four hours and ten minutes' work!

Worry! Worry! Maybe that powder is a little old!

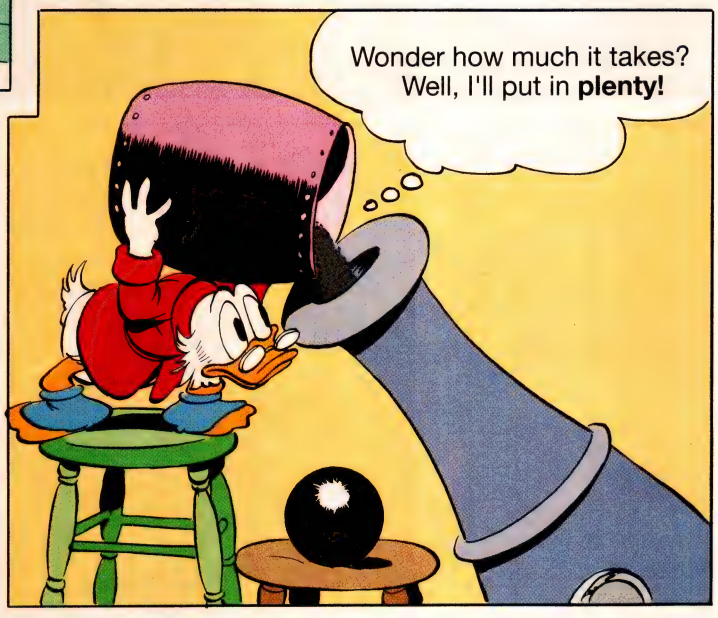
I'd better reload the cannon with a fresh keg!
QUEEN VICTORIA'S ROYAL ARTILLERY



Wonder how much it takes? Well, I'll put in plenty!

Much later...
Come on, Beagle Boys! Come on! I've been ready for you for hours!

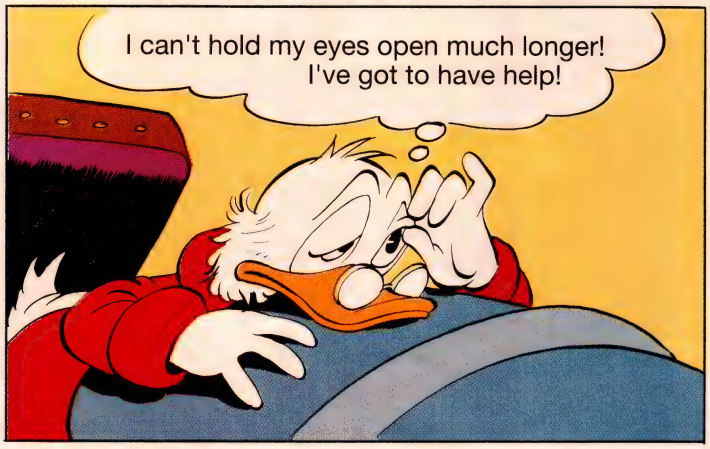
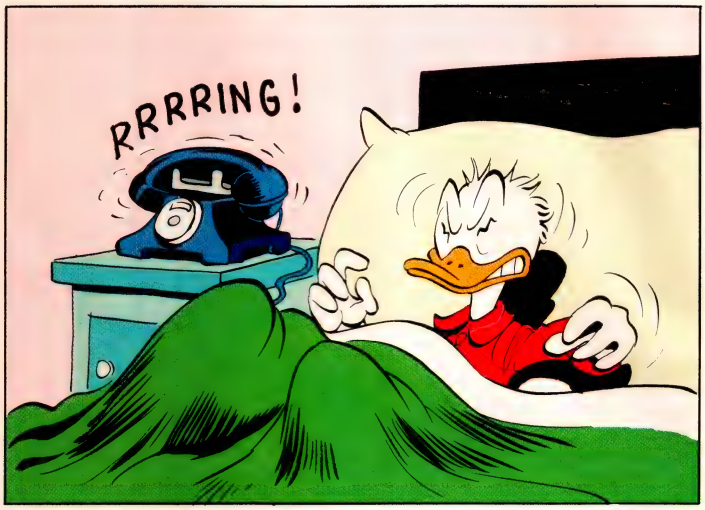
Still later...
It's long past bedtime, and those robbers haven't showed up yet!



I can't hold my eyes open much longer! I've got to have help!



RRRRING!

But, Uncle Scrooge, I'm sleepy! And, besides, I won't worry at night for less than fifty pence an hour!

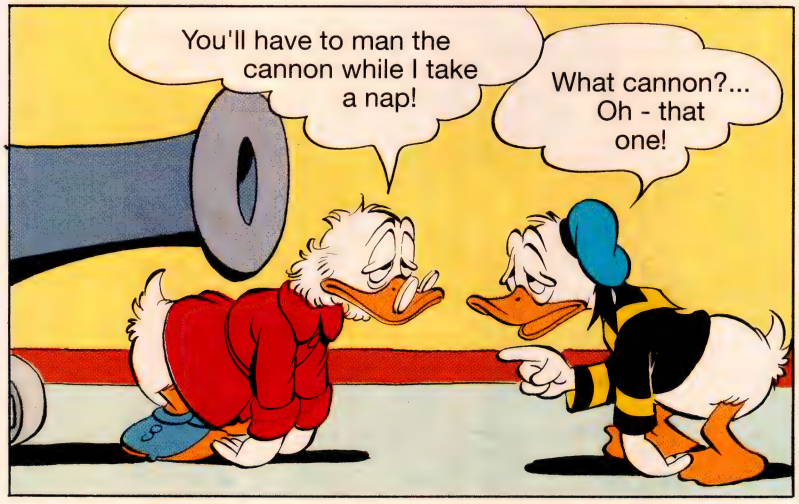
Okay! Okay! I'll be right over!



You'll have to man the cannon while I take a nap!
What cannon?... Oh - that one!

You're going to be a lot of help!
ZZZZZZ
PLOP!

Get up! Wake up! The Beagle Boys could be here any minute!
Start worrying! Think of some way to keep one of us awake!
My feet hurt!
Oh, me! Oh, my! (Moan!) (Groan!)
(Grunt!) (Sigh!) (Yawn!) Wheeze!
I've got it! I figured it out!
Huh? ...Oh, yes! What?
Zzzzzzz
Wake up! Wake up! What was your idea?
(Gasp!) (Gurgle!) A spring gun! You rig the cannon up like a spring gun!
Run a rope from the door to a fuse-lighter gadget on the cannon! Anybody who opens the door touches off the powder!
Donald! You're a genius!

With this burglar-stopper in action I can go home and get a good night's sleep!
You and me both!
When the door is opened this far the rope tightens and...
...pulls the arm up, striking the match, and...
...the match lights the fuse, the cannon shoots - and blooey go the Beagle Boys!
Now, remember about this door - don't open it too wide!

Mickey's Mail, P.O. Box 61, London WC1H 9SG

Dear Mickey and friends,
I think Mickey and friends is an ace mag and I'd like to know when it first came out.
From Jill Wardle, Doncaster.
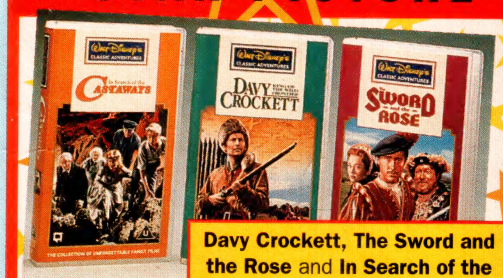
Mickey and friends is still a young comic, Jill - the very first edition appeared on 17th October 1992! Love from Mickey and friends.

STAR PICTURE



Davy Crockett, The Sword and the Rose and In Search of the Castaways are all available to buy at £10.99 each.

Our star prize this week is this great video set of three Walt Disney's Classic Adventures: the wild west adventure Davy Crockett, the historical epic The Sword and the Rose, and Jules Verne's fantasy adventure In Search of the Castaways. If you would like to try and win, just send in your letters, poems and drawings to Mickey's Mail at the address above.

SURPRISE! SURPRISE!

Hello to Sarah Marshall in Bristol, Catherine Hamlin in Chester, Sofie Reynders in Ascot, and David Killick in West Wickham.

POETS' CORNER

Here's a funny poem from Ainsley Rae in Kilmarnock - it could be from Donald!

I used to live in Temper Street
And in a rage I'd fly,
I'd run right down that big long street
And shout and scream and cry,
But now I've changed my attitude,
I've made a brand new start,
I've gone to live in Mickey's Grove,
A very lovely part!

Thanks to Samuel Bennet in York for his little poem about Mickey and friends:

Mickey and friends is lots of fun,
Me and my Mum have enjoyed every one,
It's great, it's funny, it's brilliant to read,
We think that it's the best indeed!

Thanks to Shona Mogg of Bournemouth for her great drawing of Minnie.

This week's lucky winner is Lauren Hanley of Little Thornton for this whacky picture of Donald!

Solution to Mickey's puzzle.

CAN I BORROW TWENTY BUCKS, MICKEY?
UH... SURE!
THANKS!
POOR GUY PROBABLY HAS AN OVERDUE BILL!
THAT GOOFY'S A GREAT GUY! HE JUST BOUGHT ALL OF OUR SCOUT COOKIES!

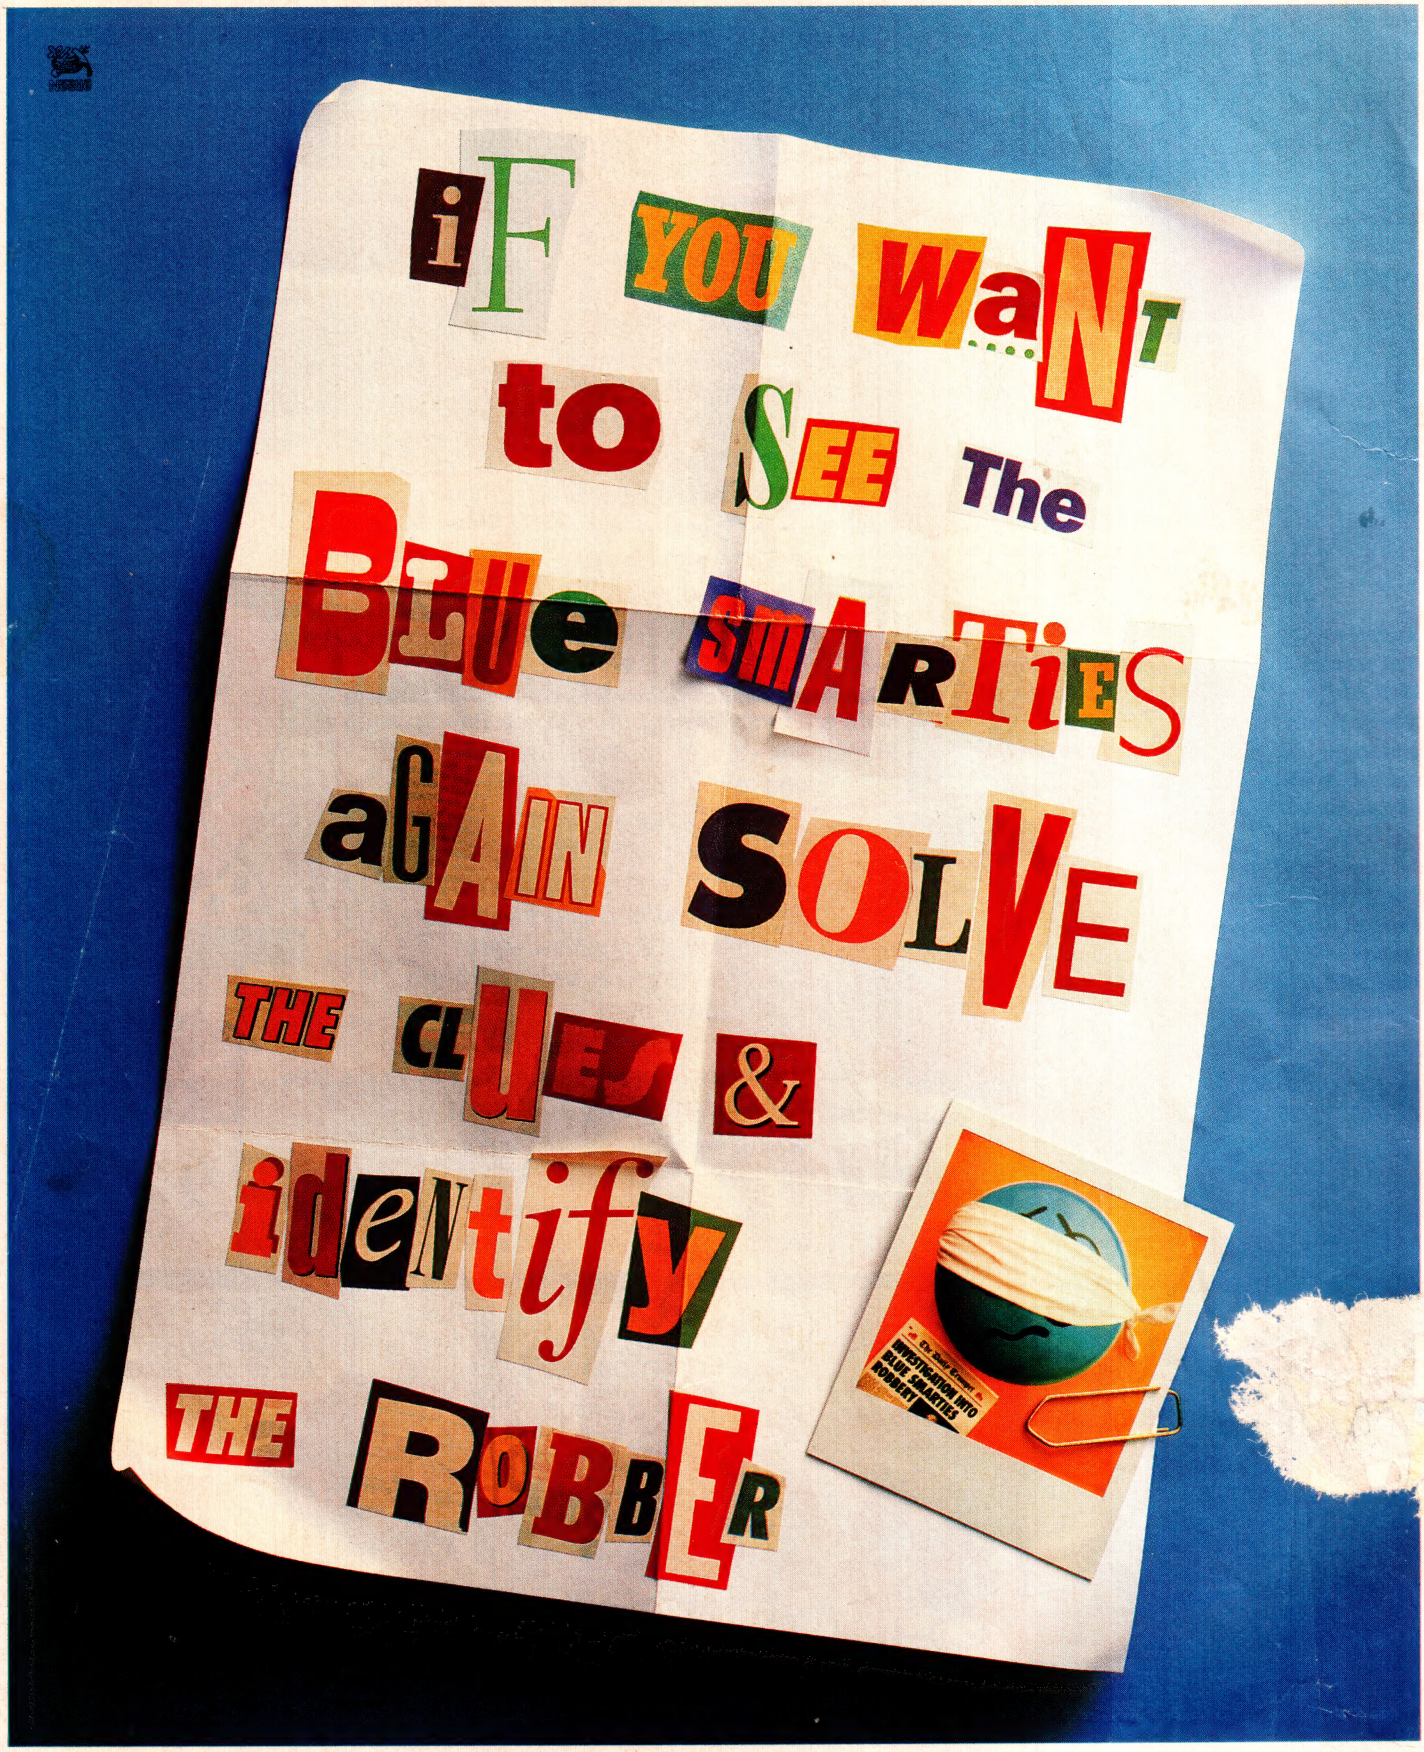
This is a Nestlé Rowntree advertisement.



The Blue Smarties have been stolen! Will we ever see them again? We will if you help us. We need you to crack the clues on special packs of Smarties to work out who the robber is. Then, send us the name of your suspect along with your name, age and address and eight tokens from special packs to: Missing Blue Smarties, Newcastle-Upon-Tyne X, NE 85 7FQ. To start you off just cut out the photo of the Big Blue Smartie and use it as your first token. Everyone who helps us in our investigation will receive a brilliant 'Smarties Secret Message Pen'.

Please include 20p for p&p and allow 28 days for delivery. Offer open to all residents of the UK and Irish Republic except for employees of Nestlé UK Ltd.
